

CONGRATULATIONS to our neighbor republic of Mexico on a political miracle! An elected president has been inaugurated, just because he was elected. That is the final test of self-government. There is, to be sure, the additional ground of congratulation that President Calles will apparently continue the good government so happily begun under President Obregon. A school teacher, risen from the ranks of Mexico's landless poor, his ambition to give his people the two things they most need—land and schools. But the real test of stability is not good government. It may even be bad government. It is the acceptance by the people of whatever government they have given themselves. A nation in which the defeated candidate goes home, can govern itself. In Mexico, he has usually gone on the war path.

THE new Mexican government will have to meet one more even harder test. Mexico is undertaking a great business job in establishing its landless on the land. The emotional, moral and political part of that victory has been won. But strong feelings and good intentions do not settle land. That takes intelligence and efficiency. There have been government land offices in Mexico seeking to distribute millions of acres of land with less equipment than an American real-estate firm would have for a suburban subdivision. Peons, without capital, tools or training have been thrust on land where only organized, financed and scientific development would have hope of success. Favoritism, dishonesty, incompetence have jeopardized theoretically sound schemes. A great business task is handicapped by the lack of business men to run it and of business principles to run it on. It takes only eloquent language to promise the people land, but it takes practical efficiency to give it to them without doing them more harm than good. Mexico has at last met the political test. The business test is more difficult.

MEANTIME, regiments, brigades and divisions of American high school students are "taking" Spanish, ostensibly because it will be useful in the future closer relations of this country with Mexico and the rest of Latin-America. At least, this is the fiction; and it may be the real reason, in the minds of parents and of some teachers. But not to the pupils! Not one of a thousand of those students has any plans of engaging in business in Latin-America, or cares whether the relation of the two Americas is to be close or distant. Some foreign language is "required" and Spanish is notoriously easy. French is next-easiest, and so is next in popularity. German was gleefully given up when the war made it unpopular, because German is hard, Latin is hard, too, if you really learn it. But the "small Latin" which is so popular now is not beyond the mental continuity of the jazz age. Parents demand it, because in their generation it was the hallmark of education, gentility. That is all. Spanish is a great, beautiful, noble language. But do not flatter yourselves that this is what high school students find in it. All they need to know is that it is "easy."

WILLIAM J. BRYAN'S check for membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science was front page news, though the election of Professor Michael Idvorsky Pupin as President of the association was scarcely noted. Perhaps if telegraph editors had realized that it is one of Dr. Pupin's discoveries that makes radio broadcasting possible, he would have been news, too. But best of all (because what a president says is always news) was President Coolidge's brief address at a reception to the delegates. "It has taken endless ages to create in men the courage that will accept the truth simply because it is the truth. Ours is a generation of pioneers in this new faith."

That was almost like a direct challenge to Bryan himself. For, in his whole anti-evolution crusade, Mr. Bryan has been at almost every mental attitude except the sole "courage that will accept the truth simply because it is the truth." He has asked of evolution, not whether it is true, but whether it is wicked; not whether it comports with the facts, but whether these facts accord with his preconceived theories. And the strength of Bryan has been that this was precisely the attitude of most of his hearers, too. The sense of fact is the last achievement of the human mind. Even this "generation of pioneers" has not attained it, but only the really pioneer part of the generation. Popularly, politically and dogmatically, science and anti-science are still two factions, with all the weight of emotion, prejudice and tradition on the side of anti-science, and only the rare and inchoate sense of fact on the side of science.

Needs More Money Mrs. Hart Claims

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—The many times postponed suit of Winifred Westover Hart to break the separation agreement with her husband, William S. Hart, "bad man" of the films, is scheduled to get under way this afternoon.

Mrs. Hart wants nullified that portion of the agreement which prevents her from claiming to be the wife of the actor. She claims the appointment of a $203,000 trust fund provided for her and the Hart baby is not enough for their support.

State Legislature Adjourns Unti Monday

U. S. CHILD LABOR ACT RATIFIED BY BIG MARGIN

Both Houses of Assembly Favor Amendment to Federal Constitution

STEAM ROLLER CRY COMES FROM FOES

House Votes 69 to 9 on Measure, While Senate Ballot Is 36 to 3

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 9.—Both houses of the state legislature adjourned today until Monday, when the real work of naming committees, introduction of bills and action on the various proposals is expected to begin in earnest.

The senate adjourned until 11 a. m., Monday, after four bills and two resolutions had been introduced.

The assembly recessed until 2 p. m., immediately after convening, with the understanding that the body would be adjourned until 1:30 p. m. Monday. Only the speaker and one assemblyman will meet in the chamber at 2 p. m., to perform the formalities of actual adjournment.

A legislature late yesterday ratified the child labor amendment to the constitution by overwhelming votes in both houses.

Cries of "steam roller" were heard from opponents of the child labor amendment after the ratification had been effected.

Legislators from the rural sections claimed the farmers of the state had been forced to accept the child labor amendment without a hearing.

Small Vote Against Bill.

But despite the objections to the bill and the motions for delay that were brought up in an effort to stall for time, the resolutions for ratification of the bill passed, 69 to 9 in the assembly, and 36 to 3 in the senate. Assemblyman Welles introduced the measure in the assembly a few minutes after the body convened and was notified by the speaker that the governor had sent up official notification of the amendment.

As soon as the measure had been ratified, the senate took this as sufficient notification that such a bill as the child labor amendment was to be considered and proceeded with its action.

Some opposition from the ruralists was encountered in the senate also, but it passed without nearly so much delay as took place in the lower house.

At a caucus of 21 former service men, held yesterday, Ed Mueller of San Diego, was selected the war veteran floor leader of the assembly. The caucus is formulating a bill which will be introduced in the assembly as soon as completed, asking for a ten million dollar bond issue for the veterans' welfare department.

Part of the money would be used to increase the allotments to former service men for homes from $5000 to $6000 in locations where the prices of homes are higher.

36 Bills in Senate.

Thirty-six bills and one resolution were introduced in the senate yesterday.

More important bills included a bill by Senators Sample and Nelson asking for the creating of a corporation known as the "State Bar of California," with the power to regulate the practice of law and providing penalties for violations.

A bill by Senator Lewis asking for a state bond issue to provide funds for the erection and equipment of state buildings at Los Angeles.

A bill by Senator A. B. Johnston providing for the co-operation of the state with the United States government in establishing and operating a forest experiment station in the state of California and to make an appropriation therefor.

A bill by Senator Ingram to amend an act entitled "an act to provide the appointment of a guardian for the Marshall monument and grounds," relating to the salary of the guardian.

LIVES APART

Martha Stanley, novelist and playwright, has for ten years maintained her apartment in New York, while her husband, John Stanley, successful business man, lives near his work in Jersey City, N. J. Their week-ends are spent together, and the strange yet happy partnership has been maintained without publicity.

DISMISS BOYS AFTER HEARING 'CIDER' CASE

With the release today of Elton Moore, Fullerton high school student, and Ernest Sweet, both of Placentia, as wards of the juvenile court, on probation, came denial of the boy's statements that they had stolen liquor from the home of G. A. Rittelbarger, principal of the Placentia grammar school.

The boys appeared on burglary charges, having confessed to entering the Rittelbarger home in company with two other boys, Lawrence Richards and Otis Adams, the latter a cousin of Moore. Richards and Adams are fugitives.

Moore and Sweet told Juvenile Judge F. C. Drumm that Sweet and Richards entered the house while the other two boys stood outside. They took a jug of vinegar, a bottle of extract, a harmonica and a jug of cider, they said. The cider Moore said, contained alcohol, he knew, because it burned his mouth. Questioned on his knowledge of the taste of alcohol, he qualified his statement by explaining that the other boys said it was alcohol. They got the jug from a kitchen cupboard in the house, Sweet said.

Principal Rittelbarger, who was in court with his attorney, T. L. McFadden, of Anaheim, made a statement to the court denying that there was any cider in the house. He had kept a jug of vinegar in the house and another in the garage, he said. Both were missing.

J. Jacobsen, chairman of the school board, said that the Rittelbarger children told him the boys had taken the jug from the garage. He believed them in preference to the others, he said.

Rittelbarger gave an inkling as to a possible motive for the statement that a jug of cider, with alcohol in it, had been taken from the principal's house. He had had trouble with Sweet, Adams and Richards when in his school, he said, though nothing of a serious nature had occurred. They appeared, however, to hold a grudge against him, he said. Young Richards, he said, was particularly bitter. He had been ordered to keep off the school grounds, the principal said.

The Rittelbargers both denied the rumored statement by Richards that he had seen five bottles of gin in the principal's house. Both of the boys, Sweet and Moore, also denied it. Sweet said he was with Richards and would have seen the gin if it had been there. They would also have taken it, he said.

Judge Drumm gave both the boys an earnest "heart to heart" talk before allowing them their liberty on probation.

KILLS SISTER ACCIDENTALLY

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 9.—Clarice Bottomo, aged 8, accidentally shot by her brother Chester, aged 12, yesterday while they were playing with an "unloaded" revolver, died here early today. The brother, after summoning a physician to care for his sister, wandered the streets most of the night, broken with grief. Police brought him home shortly before the girl died.

CRASH HORLS 2 OVERBOARD IN S. F. BAY

Rescue Captain, Sailor of Coast Guard Cutter After Ferry Collision

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The Northwestern Pacific ferry steamer Cazadero and the U. S. coast guard patrol boat No. 256 collided off Alcatraz island in San Francisco bay today during the heaviest fog in this region in several years.

Officers of the Cazadero soon brought order out of what threatened to be a panic among the 50 passengers aboard the ferry. They then launched lifeboats and rescued Captain E. Jacobsen and a sailor from the coast guard cutter who had been thrown overboard by the impact.

The patrol boat struck the Cazadero amidships, damaging the bow of the coast guard craft and breaking the port paddle wheel of the Cazadero.

The engines of the ferry steamer were temporarily disabled but emergency repairs were soon made.

No Passengers Hurt

A check by Captain A. F. Shapely of the Cazadero showed none of the passengers injured.

The Northwestern Pacific Ferry steamer Tamapais, which was passing, sighted the accident and stood by for 15 minutes but, finding it unnecessary to give aid, continued on her way to San Francisco.

After repairs to the power plant had been made the Cazadero proceeded under her own power to Sausalito, for which point she had started at 7:15 a. m. from San Francisco.

Able to Proceed

The patrol boat made emergency repairs and was able to reach the Santa Fe railway pier at Oakland without assistance.

The collision occurred so near to the army disciplinary barracks on Alcatraz island that the crash was heard by the guards on duty but nothing could be seen.

Numerous minor ferry and traffic accidents were reported.

The Key Route ferry steamer San Leandro bumped into a pier and in backing away, struck a Southern Pacific ferry in an adjoining pier.

The Southern Pacific ferry Santa Clara was reported by passengers to have narrowly avoided a collision.

Commuters arriving on the Southern Pacific 7 a. m. trip reported seeing a small boat drift. Numerous traffic accidents occurred but none, apparently, was serious.

At 10 a. m. the fog was lifting.

FOG DEMORALIZES TRAFFIC IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The worst fog in many seasons enveloped parts of San Francisco this morning and, in less degree, most of the bay district.

In some sections of the city the street car tracks were not visible from the sidewalks.

Bay ferry traffic was on slow schedule, making many commuters late to work and ferries proceeded under whistles and at half speed. Automobiles and street cars barely crept along, with lights burning. Several minor accidents in traffic were reported.

Find Torso After Haystack Burns

OTTAWA, Ohio, Jan. 9.—A charred human torso was revealed after fire had destroyed a haystack on the Mark Bogart farm near here today. Authorities were convinced the haystack had been burned for the purpose of destroying the body.

The earth near the stack was being spaded in the hope of finding other parts of the body.

"30" BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The army appropriation bill carrying appropriations aggregating $331,242,114 was passed today by the house.

The measure includes an appropriation of $40,000,000 for the maintenance and improvement of rivers and harbors projects. As sent to the senate the bill provides for an enlisted strength of 125,000 men, exclusive of approximately 8,000 Philippine scouts.

ATTACKS ON MUSSOLINI ARE FEARED

Adopts Ingenious Ruse to Guard Life; Report of Assassination Denied

ROME, Jan. 9.—Reports circulated on the Berlin Bourse that Premier Benito Mussolini was assassinated are wholly groundless.

ASSASSINATION REPORTS DECLARED GROUNDFLESS

While the report from Berlin is entirely unconfirmed and should be taken only with great reservation, the appearance of such a rumor is not surprising, in view of the fact that Mussolini's followers have feared for some time that an attack might be made on him.

The danger has been recognized by Mussolini himself for months past and he has adopted the simple expedient of never appearing at appointed places at the time expected. For instance, if it is announced that the premier will travel from Milan to Rome on a certain train, Mussolini not only does not appear at the station, but makes the trip by automobile.

Following an announcement that the premier will arrive at some point at a certain hour, Mussolini suddenly appears an hour or two earlier and is then immediately surrounded by his followers.

BELLE OF SOCIETY SUES HER BUTLER

PACIFIC GROVE, Cal., Jan. 9.—Disagreement of the jury in the theft case of Chase against McElroy brought to an end one of the liveliest social events of the season here.

For three days friends of Miss Ysobel Chase, whose name is known to all social registers and blue book editors, cheered while her attorneys demanded punishment for William McElroy, Miss Chase's negro butler, for alleged theft of an ivory mah jongg set.

On the other side of the courtroom ranged the friends of McElroy, applauding each telling legal point which supported the defendant's contention that Miss Chase had given him the articles he was charged with stealing.

Then the case went to the jury and while it deliberated ladies of the prosecution warmed up the disputed mah jongg tiles, while gentlemen of the defense toyed with a pair of dice.

The jury stood 7 to 5 for conviction when Justice Fitzsimmons ruled no contest.

EXPORTS EXCEEDED IMPORTS IN 1924

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Exports of the United States in 1924 exceeded imports by more than a billion dollars, the department of commerce announced today.

Exports amounting to more than $4,600,000,000 showed an increase of 12 per cent over 1923 and of 115 per cent over the average pre-war year.

Imports of $3,575,000,000 were five per cent below 1923.

Goods exported show no great increase in prices, but the increase registered was almost entirely due to greater quantity shipments.

Last year's favorable balance was $470,000,000. The record high marks were set in the past years of 1919 and 1920, with favorable trade balances of nearly $4,000,000,000.

The percentage by which exports exceed imports was greater even before the war although some of the boom years of the war had greater figures because of the tremendous values of commodities during that period.

Yellow Nations May Join Confab

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Representative Britten, Illinois, Republican, author of the proposal to hold a conference of white races bordering on the Pacific, today suggested that the word "white" be eliminated from his resolution so that China and Japan might take part in the conference. Britten made his suggestion during discussion of the resolution by the naval affairs committee.

DECLINES POST

Captain Charles Goff was offered the post of prohibition director for California but declined to continue his work with the San Francisco police department. W. W. Anderson, dry director in Chicago, was named for the place.

FILM ACTRESS DIVORCED. MAY MARRY FIGHTER

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Estelle Taylor Peacock was today granted a decree of divorce in the court of common appeals from her husband, Kenneth M. Peacock.

The movie star started divorce proceedings against her husband last September and the case was referred to a master, whose report was filed November 11, recommending that a divorce be granted on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

It was not disclosed what the cruel and barbarous treatment consisted of, as the master's report was impounded at once and counsel in the case refused to discuss it.

Jack Dempsey has been attentive to Miss Taylor for some time and it has been reported the heavyweight champion intended to marry the screen star as soon as she secured her divorce.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO FOLLOW LATER

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9.—"It's mighty sweet news to me."

So stated Estelle Taylor, screen actress, when informed today her petition for a divorce from her husband Kenneth M. Peacock, had been granted in Philadelphia.

"This is the first I have heard of, but I'm tickled to death," the star repeated, giggling like a school girl. "I'd been expecting the news but wasn't certain it would come today."

"What about your future, particularly that part concerning Jack Dempsey?" Miss Taylor was asked.

"Do you think this is hardly the time to discuss that?" she came back. "Of course Jack and I are the dearest of friends, but it would be much more diplomatic to wait a few days before announcing any engagement, if at all. Let's put it off awhile."

Dempsey was out "on the road," doing his daily exercise and could not be reached with the news.

Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, however, said that if his protegee and Miss Taylor plan to wed, he will be the last one to step them.

To Hollywood, the wedding of the studio town's most famous lovers only awaited Miss Taylor's divorce. That the ceremony will occur shortly is a foregone conclusion. The two are together almost constantly. Dempsey acting as Miss Taylor's business manager and advisor.

L. A. Gas Deaths Total Eighteen

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Education to prevent additional carbon monoxide poisoning deaths here was speeded today, following the eighteenth fatality in recent weeks, discovered late yesterday.

John H. Rousseau, 84, a retired business man, is the latest victim. His body was found by a daughter who reported two gas heaters were going full blast in the house when she entered.

ENVOYS ARE DEADLOCKED ON CLAIMS

No General Debt Parley Is Seen Now; Finance Sessions Secret

PARIS, Jan. 9.—American and British delegates who have been negotiating privately regarding Great Britain's objections to the claim of the United States to a share of payments under the Dawes plan, reached a deadlock today, according to British advisers.

Colonel James A. Logan, who has been conferring with Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, wired to Washington for instructions.

SECURITY IS ORDER OF DAY AT CONFERENCES

PARIS, Jan. 9.—As the finance conference settled down today to a series of secret meetings and the steam rolling of the great powers over the small nations represented, the French foreign office contributed a significant semi-official statement to the effect that it now is certain no general debt conference will grow out of the present parley.

American spokesmen reiterated that difficult negotiations are in progress with the British regarding American claims to a share in the proceeds of the Dawes plan. The British are said to be holding rigidly to their original position, although there still is hope for settlement.

Secrecy is the order of the day. While the American representatives, Ambassadors Herrick and Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan, stated they did not favor secrecy, it was noticed that Colonel Logan cancelled his customary conference with the American newspaper correspondents tonight.

FRANCE NOT READY FOR DEBT PROPOSITION

PARIS, Jan. 9.—France will make no definite proposition at this time for settlement of her debts to the United States and Great Britain.

This was decided upon at a conference presided over by Premier Herriot today, in which M. Clementel and heads of the senate and chamber finance committees, as well as cabinet members and party leaders anticipated.

The question of inter-allied debts and this country's obligations to the United States were discussed, but it was decided that the time was not ripe for advancing a definite proposition. This was taken to indicate the conversations between Clementel and Winston Churchill had made little progress.

NAB PASTOR FOR SHOOTING WIFE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 9.—Charged with shooting his wife, the Rev. R. T. Anderson, evangelist, was under arrest here today.

The shooting occurred at the home of a sister-in-law after the evangelist is alleged to have received a telephone message that his wife had gone there to meet another man.

"The shooting was accidental," the Rev. Mr. Anderson said. "We were snuffing over a gun and it went off." Mrs. Anderson will recover.

OPPOSE PROMOTION OF ATT. GEN. STONE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Two witnesses protested against promotion of Attorney General Harlan F. Stone to the supreme court in a closed hearing before the senate judiciary committee today.

James A. Owenby of Boulder, Colo., and Ben March, representative of a farm organization, declared that Stone should remain at the justice department to complete the work he has undertaken, the objections being in the nature of a tribute to his work as attorney general, according to Chairman Sterling. No further hearings on the nominations are contemplated, Sterling said.

PRINCESS JOACHIM TO WED DESSAU

ROME, Jan. 9.—Government revenues for the first semester of the current fiscal year show an increase of 752,000,000 lire over the previous corresponding period.

Princess Joachim, widow of the ex-kaiser's son, who committed suicide, will be married here tomorrow to Major Blenert, a wealthy land owner.

WRIT WILL BE SOUGHT BY MAN ON POISONING

Garden Grove Physician Says He Will Start Habeas Corpus Proceedings

INSISTS DEFINITE CHARGE BE FILED

Cyanide, Chocolate and Walnuts Are Found On Orange County Ranch

DECLARING that he should not be suspected of mailing a box of poison candy to his former wife, Dr. Ludia F. Kerr, of Fullerton, Dr. Franklin E. Kerr of Garden Grove, today in Los Angeles announced through his attorney, Rush Meadows, that he would file a writ of habeas corpus unless charges against him were made known.

Kerr was arrested Wednesday night. No specific charges have been filed against him, but he is being held pending the outcome of an investigation by police and federal officers.

A large quantity of cyanide, chocolate, and walnuts similar to those found in the candy, were discovered on Kerr's Garden Grove ranch yesterday, investigators said.

Says Cyanide Used For Spraying

Dr. Kerr, however, terms his arrest unjustified, admitting that there was cyanide on his ranch but declaring he used it for spraying trees.

The charge opposite Dr. Kerr's name on the police station blotter is "suspicion of felony." Forty-eight hours is the limit that a person can be held in custody without the filing of a formal charge.

Detective Inspector Love and Detective Lieutenant Lloyd went to Garden Grove to look for a dog belonging to Dr. Kerr which disappeared, leaving a litter of pups, about last Thanksgiving, the time Mrs. Kerr received the candy. Dr. Kerr is said to have told officers that the dog leaped from his car one day while he was on his way to his office.

Neighbor Gives Information

Detective Lieutenant Lloyd stated that while in Garden Grove he talked with a neighbor of Kerr, who reported that Kerr, before Thanksgiving asked him how much cyanide it would take to kill a person. The neighbor told Kerr, Lloyd reported he said, that he once heard of a man who died in a hospital after putting a small pellet on his tongue.

The address on the poison box was typewritten and the officers also examined a number of typewriters in offices in Garden Grove. The typewriter in Dr. Kerr's office, it was stated, was not used to address the package.

SEEK IDENTITY OF WOMAN BY RADIO

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—"Miss Hysteria," unidentified 22-year-old girl, who has been a patient in the psychopathic ward at the Cook county hospital for the past two months, will broadcast from station WGBH here tonight in hope that some relative or friend will recognize her voice.

"Charlotte," as she is known at the hospital, is suffering from amnesia—loss of memory.

She was picked up in the Union depot on November 13.

Bandit Wounds Downey Constable

DOWNEY, Cal., Jan. 9.—Deputy Constable James Branch of Downey was seriously injured in a gun battle with two bandits early today.

While the officer was "shooting it out" with the men, the other slipped up behind him and struck him over the head with a gas pipe. Branch was unconscious for some time.

The suspects were in an automobile with the lights out. When the constable ordered them to get out of the car, they commenced shooting. Branch said he believes he wounded one of the duo.

Execute Slayer at San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN Penitentiary, Cal., Jan. 9.—Walter Yeager, aged 41, was hanged at 10:01 a. m. on the scaffold here. Given an opportunity to make a statement, he refused. He was hanged for the murder of a traffic officer in Madera, Cal. in November, 1923.

DETAILS MENACE FROM CARBON MONOXIDE GAS
Editor Register—Your editorial, "Beware Monoxide Gas," is correct so far as it goes. In view of public fright that needs to be overcome by full information leading to intelligent prevention, permit me to supplement your views by adding certain detail. Eastern people are quite familiar with the blue flame formed in base-burner stoves and furnaces at night, when the fire is banked with coal and the supply of air is reduced; and they also know that it is unsafe to leave the stove for the night until this bluish flame is seen, for it indicates that the carbon monoxide liberated by the imperfect combustion of the carbon in the coal through reduced supply of oxygen is being burned as it forms. If it is not burned the carbon monoxide may escape into the air of the house, causing dangerous or fatal poisoning. Such cases are more frequent in the East than they are in California. Carbon monoxide is a colorless and almost odorless gas produced by incomplete combustion of carbon-bearing substances in a deficient supply of oxygen. When it is burned it is converted into carbon dioxide, or the relatively less toxic carbonic acid gas—the gas one gets in soda water. Monoxide is the gas that has killed many people who have allowed their automobiles to run in closed garages. The exhaust of an automobile carries into the air quantities of the products of incomplete combustion, and in cities with heavy traffic in narrow streets flanked by high buildings carbon monoxide often contaminates the air to a degree that is unhealthy. Combustion in a modern gas stove is very much more complete than it is in the engine of an automobile, nearly all of the carbon monoxide being burned. Absolutely complete combustion has not been attained in any form of commercial device.

Carbon monoxide is a deadly narcotic poison which fixes the hemoglobin of the blood, rendering it incapable of taking up oxygen from the air taken in by respiration. One percent in the atmosphere is dangerous. Half of this amount will kill birds in three minutes.

Now as regards gas used from the street mains. The coal gas used in parts of the East contains about 8 per cent of carbon monoxide. So-called water gas produced from oil and steam contains from 25 to 33 per cent of carbon monoxide, carburized water gas containing somewhat less. In the East many cases of carbon monoxide poisoning result from leaks from gas pipes and fixtures carrying these manufactured gases. Natural gas, such as we use here, is composed of several gaseous hydrocarbons and a mere trace of carbon monoxide. A well-made oil gas, used to some extent in California, also carries very small amounts of carbon monoxide. It is to be seen from this that our gas hazard from leaks, while dangerous from the standpoint of fire and explosion, is not nearly so great a health hazard as the East has to face.

Permit me to quote from a book, "Public Hygiene" (Thos. S. Blair, Boston, 1911), the specific data being supplied to me by Allen S. Graham, a gas engineer, and the "Proceedings of the American Gas Institute."

"Many families suffer ill health from numerous insignificant gas leaks. When a house is erected the gas pipes should always be well tested. Rubber hose connections are bad. Gas stoves should always be permanently connected up. Gas fixtures, as made by reliable houses, are seldom a source of danger, but they must be well erected. Gas stoves of any kind not connecting with the chimney have their limitations gauged very largely by their size and the degree of ventilation of the apartment in which they are used. Gas heaters in both rooms should have chimney connection."

"The most toxic agent in manufactured gas as it reaches the consumer is carbon monoxide. Fortunately, its combustion is quite complete (due to the hydrogen in the gas and the oxygen in the air), liberating some carbon dioxide, or carbonic acid gas, and a minute trace of carbon monoxide. With any sort of ventilation the ordinary use of gas is not productive of dangerous contamination. "No gas company will contend that the products of the combustion of gas should be counted as a negligible factor, but private consumers are very liable to order in gas stoves and water heaters consuming a large volume of gas and have them placed in very small rooms. Some gas companies are refusing to connect up such heaters in bedrooms unless the products of combustion are vented to the outside air. Invalids, and especially persons with throat and lung affections, should not depend upon a gas stove, except as an auxiliary heat, unless connected with the chimney. Some of the older types of gas heating apparatus are very insanitary and are condemned by the large gas corporations."

From our local angle it must be added to the above data that natural gas is very rich in carbon and its products of combustion are greater than in the case of manufactured gas. In Pittsburgh where natural gas is used, it is contended by the well-informed that natural gas should be burned only in stoves especially devised to assure the combustion of this large amount of carbon, and that even these stoves should have outside vents.

While it is true that our gas, coming from leaks, is less injurious to health than is manufactured gas, it is also true that a gas with as many thermal units as ours is highly charged with carbon and its incomplete combustion will liberate more carbon monoxide than in the case of lighter gases. It is, therefore, a problem of relatively complete combustion that confronts us. As your editorial states, the oxygen is burned out in a closed room; but it is not the lack of oxygen that kills the occupant, but the carbon monoxide that is formed when the stove is not supplied with a normal amount of oxygen. Carbon monoxide is a terrible poison.

We have three or four firms in Santa Ana that manufacture excellent gas furnaces. Our citizens should patronize these firms when they have cellars in which the furnaces can be installed. There is also on sale here the floor furnace. When properly vented it works admirably. Gas stoves placed in fireplaces are safe and sanitary. Down drafts may in some back current from these devices, but only when chimneys do not project above the ridge of the roof.

Respectfully,
THOS. S. BLAIR, M. D.

Defies Federal Agents; Trapped

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—(Uyen the door, we're federal officers," shouted two narcotic agents in the hall outside a hotel bedroom. "Come in and get me and look out for your heads," replied Willis Johnston from the inside. The agents gave a shove, the door tumbled in and cracked Johnston over the scalp, knocking him unconscious. He had been crouched inside with a heavy piece of timber in his hands, but when he regained his senses he was handcuffed and securely bound.

Kodak Stolen from Local Home

Burglars entered the home of G. E. Engle, 912 East Santa Clara street yesterday and stole a kodak valued at $20, a revolver and an overcoat according to a report on file at the city police station today. Entrance was gained to the house while the family was away from home, by the use of a pass key, it was reported.

Corner Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

YOUR VELVET-COLLAR OVERCOAT

He who goes about with one overcoat to his back for all occasions is like the automobile that travels around with one working cylinder to its motor. It may cover the situation, but it doesn't cover the emergency. There are quite as many different types of overcoats as there are of suits. These models reflect formality or informality; the trend of town or the call of the country; day dress or evening dress; field or function. Far too many of us do not differentiate between various styles of overgarments, but good form does. You are just as incorrect if you wear a knickerbocker Raglan coat over a Tuxedo suit, as if you wore a knicker suit under a high hat.

A velvet collar upon your overcoat renders it immediately and unmistakably formal in character, for velvet, the cloth of monarchs and thrones, implies luxury and ceremony to the issimo degree. Never wear the soft hat with the velvet-collar overcoat. Wear only the derby, as shown here. Never wear tan shoes, either dark or light, with the velvet-collar overcoat. Wear only black shoes. Never wear the velvet-collar overcoat unless you wear gloves. Don't merely carry them. Gloves off the hand have no more style, than shoes off the feet or a collar off the neck.

Every man should possess at least two overcoats and, preferably, three or four. No man can make any pretense to be well-dressed if he owns but one. The two indispensable overcoats in your wardrobe are the loose-draping type with a self cloth collar and the figure-fitting, fly-front Chesterfield with a velvet collar, as portrayed in the accompanying sketch. Possessing these two overcoats, change off wearing them. Don't look the same every day.

Intentions are like fainting ladies—they miss their purpose unless they are carried out. Therefore, if your wardrobe is incomplete, acquire another overcoat at once and know the thrill and glow of alternating your appearance. Dark-gray is an admirable and serviceable color in velvet-collar overcoats, but black, dark blue and even dark-brown are also in vogue. Look at the picture above; then, picture how you will look.

Aid Society

Members of the southeast section of the First Presbyterian Aid society exclaimed with delight over the beautiful home of Mrs. W. E. Moore at the corner of Was avenue and Newport road, which was thrown open to them Tuesday afternoon for a business and social meeting.

Fifty-five members motored to the hospitable home and devoted the afternoon to hemming tea towels for Miss Estella Daniels soon to return to her missionary work in Chile, and listening to a brief business program. This opened with a special prayer by Mrs. J. R. Blee in recognition of annual prayer week. The general aid society meeting was announced for the third Wednesday in January. Plans were made to give a quilt to a worthy couple much in need of warm bedding.

During the social hour each one present was called upon to express a New Year's resolution which gave much merriment to the guests. A reading, "The Village Oracle," by Mrs. L. B. Hill was much enjoyed as was her encore number, "Little Ah Sid." Following her numbers was the presentation of a talented trio who sang their unusual songs in a variety of languages. Mrs. McLeod singing in "Danish," Mrs. Clarence Brown in "Spanish" and Mrs. J. B. Hill in "Irish." They quite "brought down the house."

The hostess committee composed of members whose names began with M and which included Mrs. Moore, the entertaining hostess, and Mrs. W. E. Maxon, chairman of the committee, then served a refreshing tea menu of fruit salad, angel food cake and coffee. The guests were served in friendly little groups formed by matching the letters in New Year's. Each tray was adorned by a pretty green and white centerpiece as a favor and the napkins, each bearing a New Year's greeting, the clever work of Mrs. L. H. Martin, added to the decorative effect.

URGES AMERICAN WOMEN TO THROW OFF YOKE OF FRENCH STYLE DICTATION

"When the women of America cease to lay the wreaths of success at the feet of Parisian fashion exponents, and recognize the talent within our very gates, and further realize that after all American women know best how American women should dress, that the keynote of any successfully well groomed and well gowned woman is the expression of personality and individuality, both in color and in line, then they will return to American creators for fashions."

The words of the foregoing paragraph fell from the lips of Peggy Hamilton, fashion editor of the Los Angeles Times, and a recognized authority on feminine style. Miss Hamilton was in Santa Ana as honor guest and one of the principal speakers at the annual banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association at St. Ann's Inn.

The world of fashion holds Peggy Hamilton a marvel, but she makes no claim to power greater than any other human being may have. She practices to the nth degree the faculty of interpreting the psychology of styles and fashions. Last year she attended the convention of advertising clubs of the world at London. After the convention she spent several months in Paris studying fashions.

"It will perhaps please the ladies of Santa Ana to know that while on the Berengaria, on my return from Europe, I had the pleasure of being in the company of the Hon. Mrs. Norton, Lady Mountbatten and Lady Duff Cooper, who complimented the American women on the style and selection of their clothes, and going still further the Hon. Mrs. Norton said, 'I thoroughly believe that women in general have come to realize that the best dressed women in the world are Americans. They have a chic way of walking, a pleasing way of talking and elegant taste in dressing.'" and other women look upon them with envious eyes." But she added that she was proud of the way in which the women of her country wear their street costumes. Lady Mountbatten remarked about the beautiful feet and ankles of the American women and that to her their greatest beauty was their graceful and natural manner. "We have in Los Angeles," she said, "talented fashion artists such as Claire West, Ethel Chaffin and Sophie Wachner, and several others quite as gifted and world-famous, who are compelled to anticipate the trend, lines and colors six months to a year in advance of the date of production in order that the costumes of featured pictures will not only be up to date but far in advance for the public following the styles set forth by the screen."

Urging the patronage of home industry, which she stated not only equals but in many cases surpasses the endeavors of French compass makers, Miss Hamilton said: "We will never establish Los Angeles as a gown manufacturing center, nor will the Southern California creators be able to give vent to their many inspirations until the public of Los Angeles supports the manufacturing houses. Some of the retailers say, in answer to inquiries as to why they do not make more of a feature of buying here, that the wholesale houses do not carry sufficiently extreme and varied lines to warrant weakening their connections with New York houses. I grant that this is true. Until the demand meets the present supply, what is the need of more wholesale houses, more elaborate creations."

"Consequently my plea is to women of Southern California. We must appeal to them, interest them in production, and introduce to them the quality of interesting products now being manufactured here."

CLAIM COMMISSION OF FULLERTON DUO

A claimed commission of $11,271.85 for a real estate transaction as the bone of contention today at the trial of a suit brought by J. H. McKean and W. T. Jagers, Los Angeles men, against Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. McComber, of Fullerton. The case, originally filed in Los Angeles county, was transferred here on an order changing venue.

McKean and Jagers, claiming to be really salesmen, alleged that in December, 1923, they entered a contract with the McCombers to procure a purchaser for two units of land owned by the McCombers in Los Angeles county. They subsequently found a purchaser who paid $212,437 for the property, they alleged. They claimed a five per cent commission, amounting to $11,771.85, but were paid only $500, they say.

The McCombers assert, in answer to the suit, that there was no contract nor any agreement reduced to writing. The only arrangement made was verbal, they assert. All of the plaintiff's allegations were denied.

ESCAPE INJURIES IN MOTOR CRASH

Ernest Crozier Phillips, director of dramatic arts at the Santa Ana high school, and Mrs. Phillips narrowly escaped serious injuries, when the car in which they were riding, collided with a car driven by Mrs. R. W. Lantz, 920 West Sixth street, at the intersection of First and Ross streets at 7:30 p. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Lantz were cut and bruised, but not seriously. According to a report made of the accident at the city police station last night, by Phillips, Mrs. Lantz violated the right-of-way, which he gave as cause for the accident, claiming that the car in which he and Mrs. Phillips were riding, and which was being driven by Renel Yount, 18, of Costa Mesa, was hit in the rear by the Lantz car, completely overturning it.

Mrs. Lantz's injuries consisted of cuts and bruises of a minor nature. Mrs. R. Hart was in the car with Mrs. Lantz at the time of the accident, but escaped injury.

Friendly Group Meets To Honor Bride of Late December

Complimenting a holiday bride was a charming affair given yesterday by a trio of hostesses, Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Frank Cannon and Mrs. Frank E. McCarter, who entertained at the beautiful Mitchell home on South Sycamore street in honor of Mrs. W. Paul Johnson, formerly Mrs. Maude Johnson Lash.

The wedding of the popular couple was a surprise event of December 29 in Los Angeles, and their return quite recently from the motor honeymoon which followed the ceremony was welcomed in this happy manner by a little group of their friends.

The spacious rooms of the Mitchell home offered a delightful setting for the assemblage of friends, and were decked with sweet peas and clusters of mountain greenery. A program of merry events opened with a button-hole contest in which the bits of cloth and threaded needles were sealed in envelopes, one for each member.

The prize award held the surprise element indeed, for it was made on the neatness with which the envelope was opened, rather than the condition of the finished button-hole.

Mrs. R. H. Chapin, in receiving the prize, related how such neatness had become second nature to her because of having been ridiculed for the careless manner in which she used to tear open letters. Similar prizes were given Mrs. G. P. O'Connor and Mrs. W. B. Williams, winners in a trousseau and a cake contest, respectively.

After a delicious two course refreshment menu offering pressed veal, perfection salad, olives, thin bread and butter sandwiches, coffee, French pastries and mints served in dainty lavender baskets, the honor guest was given a number of merry jingles which directed her to one section of the home after another. One in the mailbox finally instructed her to look in the drawing-room, and upon her return to the circle of friends, she discovered a great basket heaped high with gifts of lovely linens.

Opening and examining these gave a happy interlude to both Mrs. Johnson and her friends all of whom gathered around and enjoyed the pretty luncheon sets, dainty towels and bits of hand embroidery with her.

Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Cannon and

Post-Holiday Party of Club Members Is Enjoyed

Mrs. Lewis F. Rorman was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the A. D. club who met at her home, 901 Myrtle street, for a merry evening.

Since it was their first gathering since the holidays, the members delighted in hearing of the pleasant things each had enjoyed during that period and in learning what prized gifts Santa Claus had bestowed.

Mrs. Rorman used baskets of yellow centurias in her cheerful decorative scheme, and at a late hour in the evening, served a dainty little supper on trays bearing an appetizing shrimp salad, wafers and coffee, followed by yellow ices and cake.

In her serving she was assisted by her sister, Miss Mabel Cole. Club members present included Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. Luther Ray, Mrs. Barry Davis, Mrs. George Soha and her daughter Peggy, Mrs. Bess Mathes, Miss Amy Larson and Miss Gladys Young who will entertain the club soon in her home, 625 South Main street.

Sedgwick Corps

Joint installation of officers of Sedgwick Women's Relief corps and Sedgwick post will be held in the G. A. R. hall at 2 o'clock January 14. A pot luck lunch will be served at 12 o'clock. All members of the two organizations are invited to be in attendance.

Mrs. McCarter were assisted in serving and in other details of the pleasant afternoon by a trio of charming young girls, the Misses Frances McCarter, Veda Mitchell and Eleanor Mitchell.

Santa Anans are in for a treat when the next Community play is given. If last night's meeting of the Players at The Barn is a standard by which to judge. For the group listened with increasing amusement to the first act of the projected play read by a succession of members in response to requests from the assistant manager, George Gerwing, who announced that "The First Year" was the rollicking comedy chosen for production.

The usual crowd of interested folk gathered at The Barn at 7:30 o'clock for the announced business meeting and program to follow. The business session was unusually important in that it offered a reading of the constitution submitted by the committee recently appointed to prepare it. This committee, appointed by Robert R. Shafer, president, was composed of Major M. Burr Wellington secretary, Burr Shafer, Miss Hazel Benus, Mrs. L. L. Beeman, R. R. Miller and H. B. Van Dien. The result of their efforts proved to be a concise and comprehensive set of regulations which was unanimously adopted by the Players.

In the matter of dues, the decision was reached to have them two dollars a year, payable semi-annually and it was further decided that everyone having had the full worth of their original dues out of The Barn, the payments should start with the current month and be due again in June.

An announced reading of a Dunsany play was made impossible at the last minute, so the reading of the first act of "The First Year" was substituted, and among those called upon at various times the director were Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Mrs. Warren Fletcher, R. R. Miller, Leonard Baker, Arthur Collins, Harry Brackett, Robert Sneed, Miss Beulah May, Robert G. Horn, Mrs. Arthur May, S. R. Wyvil, Miss Rosa Clausen, Miss Edith Cornell, Mrs. William Cummings, Miss Elizabeth Bruner, Ted Griggs, Jack Bascom and Mrs. R. R. Miller.

The reading was most informal but gave those present an idea of the amusing features of the play and the promise it holds for being a typical Community Players' success.

Oakland Visitor Is Greeted By Group of Old Friends

Mrs. John Cannon entertained a company of the girlhood friends of Mrs. Frank E. Biggs of Oakland at her home at 107 East Myrtle street, last Tuesday evening, complimenting Mrs. Biggs, who is here for a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Remberg and her friend, Mrs. G. G. Ford.

A yellow and white color zoff was prettily carried out in the appointments for the evening, and bridge was the diversion, for which the prizes went to Mrs. Floyd Knight and Mrs. George Parker. Mrs. Biggs was given a pretty honor guest gift.

During the enjoyment of the dainty collation served upon the small tables, reminiscences of old times were enjoyed by the coterie of friends.

Besides the hostess and honor guest, those participating in the joys of the evening were Mrs. George Paul Jr., Mrs. Amelia Peckham, Mrs. Charles Givens, Mrs. Floyd Knight, Mrs. Alfred Catland, Mrs. Paul Witmer and Mrs. George Parker.

During the social hour, the members formed in friendly little groups for the enjoyment of hot coffee and a variety of sandwiches to which individual bottles of grape juice added the final touch. All joined in expressing to Ernest Crozier Phillips, Community Players' director, and to Mrs. Phillips, their congratulations on the splendid manner in which they came out of an automobile collision on their way to The Barn. While considerably shaken and with their car damaged somewhat, neither Mr. nor Mrs. Phillips were seriously injured when their car was struck at an intersection and completely overturned.

Miss Elizabeth Bruner was named as chairman of a committee to arrange for the February entertainment feature, with power to call upon any member for aid. Miss Edith Cornell will have charge of the March program.

Retiring President Entertains Group At Luncheon

One of yesterday's pleasant affairs was the January meeting of the Past Presidents' association of the Daughters of Veterans whose members were entertained at the lovely home of the retiring president, Mrs. Margaret Robertson, North Main street.

A delicious luncheon was enjoyed when the guests were asked to the dining-room where one large table was centered with pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern arranged in a graceful basket. At either end of the table were corresponding clusters of the fragrant flowers and other appointments of the table carried the same pretty color scheme of pink and green.

In the afternoon the members enjoyed initiating Mrs. Floss La Bounty, the Daughters' 1924 president, into their organization and welcomed Mrs. Harriet Leipsic new president of the D. of V. as an honorary member. Mrs. Leonora Ward was selected to direct the Past Presidents' activities for the coming year and chose Mrs. Nellie Parker as her secretary-treasurer. The remainder of the pleasant afternoon was devoted to social chat and needlework.

Enjoying Mrs. Robertson's hospitality were Mesdames Flora Phillips, Elizabeth Adams, Eva C. Bell, Leonora Ward, May Thomas, Louisa Leech, Esther Gardner, Emma Chapman, Floss La Bounty, Harriet Leipsic, Nellie Parker and two little maids, Nina June Robertson and Wanda Todd.

CHATTY GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Society in New York is not synonymous with wealth. Many of the debutantes who are now having elaborate coming-out parties have parents who hardly have the price of auto hire for the event.

Any young lady who can promise hotels, milliners, costumers, caterers and others needed in arranging a coming-out party that certain families will be represented at the affair can have anything they need free of cost.

Many a man mortgages himself to send his daughter to finishing school. There she meets daughters of wealthy New Yorkers. Even in school she can procure fine clothes if she shows her modiste and milliner that she can steer the wealthy daughters to her shop.

After she comes out of school she is able to keep up her social pace by leading the same rich daughters to the establishments of those who feed and clothe her. If she is half-intelligent she can keep up this sort of thing until she is able to ensnare a wealthy son into matrimony. Then her worries are over.

One who knows New York society pretty well and who has benefited to some extent through this knowledge tells me fully one-third of the young ladies of the upper circle own nothing but the clothes on their backs.

The cost of celebrating the coming of New Year has increased considerably this year. Cover charges in some of the tony night clubs have advanced to $25 a plate where $15 was the charge in former years. Proportionate increases have been made in the more popular places.

At Times Square. Crowd breaking its ribs laughing. At an ancient opera house cab. With a comic opera negro driver. Tooting a horn. Trying to clear traffic for his hamstrung nag.

Former Chief of L. A. Police Dept. Denies 'Petting'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Denying that he ever "petted" Miss Catherine Uribe, who featured in the arrest of "Little Phil" Alguin, alleged slayer of Police Sergeant Fitzgerald, Louis D. Oaks, former chief of police, today filed an answer to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Josie M. Oaks.

Oaks recently attempted to secure a Lucatan divorce, it was stated, but has evidently given up the report.

The former police chief declares he was not on intimate terms with Miss Uribe, fair Spanish woman who gave him the tip which resulted in Alguin's arrest. Oaks also denies that he did not get intoxicated or desert his wife, as she alleges.

STATE P.-T. A. WILL CONVENE TOMORROW

With the state legislature yesterday ratifying the child labor amendment to the federal constitution, it was expected today that the session tomorrow, at the Anaheim high school, of the fourth district of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers would take on the nature of a jollification meeting.

The district embraces only Orange county, with 45 associations having a membership of 4025. It is expected 150 or 200 men and women will be present when the meeting is called to order at 9:30 a. m.

The East Side and West Side Parent-Teacher associations of Anaheim will be hostesses and will furnish coffee, escalloped potatoes and rolls for the lunch to be served at noon. Delegates are expected to bring other articles of food.

Mrs. Hugh Bradford, of Sacramento, state president, and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, of South Pasadena state department chairman of child welfare, are among the prominent women who will be present.

Nominations will be made for first and third vice presidents, treasurer, historian and parliamentarian, and the election will be held at the next quarterly meeting, to be held in May.

GROWERS SIGN CONTRACTS ON BEET RAISING

Hundreds of acres of Orange county lands have been signed by their owners for production of beets this year for the Santa Ana sugar factory, it became known today.

At the same time it was disclosed that planting now is in progress on alkali lands it being customary to plant these lands earlier than ground that is free from alkali.

According to C. A. Johnson, Orange county manager of the interests of the Holly Sugar corporation, owner of the Santa Ana plant, indications at this time point to approximately the same acreage season. The acreage last year was approximately 15,000 acres, two-thirds of the acreage being in Orange county.

Beets are grown for the local factory in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diego counties, Los Angeles county leading in the acreage outside Orange county.

The county manager said that no attempt would be made to sign acreage sufficient to warrant operation of the big sugar mill at Huntington Beach, one of the four plants in the county owned by the company.

Two of the plants, however, have been put out of commission permanently, it is understood, the factories being that at Anaheim and the one on South Main street, this city.

Johnson pointed out that some beet growers are withholding their names from contracts because there have not been abundant rains as yet. Should plenty of moisture develop later, and in time for beet planting, contracts will be more readily signed, he said.

Groves so far have been paid an average of $10 a ton for beets grown last year, and when the refined sugar produced is finally sold they will receive additional amounts. Johnson said that sugar prices are so uncertain that he would not venture a statement as to the possible amount per ton growers will receive for the 1924 production. It probably will be

PLAN CLUB OF AX MURDER IS 3000 MEMBERS AT DANA POINT

Plans for a club of over 3000 members, controlled entirely by Orange county men, with a championship golf course which would bring players from all parts of the world with other attractions for men and women, were discussed by a group of men interested in the Dana Point Yacht and Country club at Ketter's cafe last night. Among those present was John Duncan Dunn, Hollywood, internationally known golf course architect.

A committee of eight men was appointed by Dr. M. A. Patton, Santa Ana, chairman, to organize an executive committee of 25 members. The executive committee will in turn organize the advisory board. Those named last night were Dr. M. A. Patton, F. H. Felberg, Garden Grove; Dr. J. L. Beebe, Anaheim; F. K. Benchley, Fullerton; O. V. Barkman, Orange; W. C. Archibald, Santa Ana; Frank Champion, Laguna Beach, and W. T. Normile, Santa Ana. This group will meet at Ketter's cafe Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

It is planned to commence the membership campaign immediately after the executive committee is organized. The advisory board will consist of probably 150 members, all residents of Orange county, who will have complete control of the club. The remainder of the membership will be solicited from Los Angeles and elsewhere.

Speakers declared that the entire county would benefit through the establishment of the club. The publicity which the golf course would receive would be world-wide, it was asserted.

The beauty and location of the site was declared to be beyond comparison. The property is particularly adapted to a construction of a high class championship golf course, Dunn stated. He said that an inspection of the ground convinced him that an ideal course could be constructed there.

Dunn said he knew of no other place that possesses the advantages of the Dana Point property. The climate, soil and location all combine for a splendid course, he said.

Among those who spoke in favor of starting a membership campaign were the following: John D. Beyer, Los Angeles; John Knox, Santa Ana; Ed de Ahua, Laguna Beach; F. H. Felberg, Garden Grove; Dr. J. L. Beebe, Anaheim; Frank Champion, Laguna Beach; Jess Goodman, Santa Ana; R. Berger, Anaheim; Albert R. Rohrs, Orange; John H. Quinn, Los Angeles; John Duncan Dunn, Hollywood; W. C. Archibald, Santa Ana; L. M. Maynard, Los Angeles; R. W. Purpale, Laguna Beach; W. T. Normile, Santa Ana.

Readings, songs and impersonations were rendered by Jerome Shaffer, of Laguna Beach, widely known entertainer. Shaffer, a professional from New York, was enthusiastically received by the 45 men present at the meeting.

about July 1, before final settlement is made.

He would make no prediction as to what sugar prices may be when the 1925 crop is converted into sugar and is ready for marketing, and would make no statement as to possible returns to growers.

AX MURDER IS PUT AT BLACK HAND'S DOOR

DOWNEY, Jan. 9.—Following the identification of the body of an ax murder victim found in an abandoned ranch house a mile west of Norwalk Monday, county authorities today were centering their efforts in unravelling a "Black Hand" mystery. The body was identified as that of Paul Vassallo, 30, a fruit dealer of South Gate, by the widow, Rosa Vassallo, 223 San Juan street, South Gate.

According to Captain William Bright of the sheriff's homicide squad, the murder victim received letters threatening death, signed by the ominous "Black Hand," several days before he was lured to the lonely spot where death awaited him. Mrs. Vassallo said she last saw her husband Sunday afternoon when he said he was going for a walk.

Ever since receiving the asserted threatening letters, she said, her husband lived in constant fear.

"They will get me," he told her. "I am marked for death. There is no escape."

Officers investigating the crime assert the "Black Hand" letters were the result of a gamblers' feud in which the dead man is believed to have been deeply involved.

Vassallo, beside the widow, is survived by four children. He is reputed to have been well to do and influential in Los Angeles Italian circles.

An inquest will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday at the Thomas L. Miller mortuary in Downey.

Animals Primp

It is wrong to suppose that animals, upon waking up in the morning, are ready for the day's work and play. Like human beings, they have to "dress" themselves and, although this may merely consist of taking some sort of a bath and smoothing down ruffled plumage and fur, animals are not contented until they have completed their toilet. Dogs and cats are rather particular in this respect. They sit by the fire for hours washing and dressing themselves. More bath-fur animals select lonely spots

QUESTIONS CLAIMS OF L. A. COMMITTEE WITH REFERENCE TO NEW SITE FOR "U" BRANCH

Determined to get at the facts as to whether or not the board of regents of the University of California has given full and exclusive power to a committee of Los Angeles men to select a site for the southern branch of the state institution, Roy Browning, engineer for the Irvine company, today was preparing to write R. G. Sproul, secretary of the board of regents, for particulars as to the situation.

Browning is a personal friend of the secretary and a graduate of the university.

Browning is interested in the situation because he has submitted a site of 1000 acres at El Toro, the proffer being made in behalf of Dwight Whitting, owner of the property.

The Irvine man recently received from Sproul a request for further data on the tract offered him, and for this reason Browning is of the opinion the regents have not delegated full authority to the Los Angeles committee.

"I have gone direct to the regents with my offer," Browning said. "I have not, and at the present time have no intention of submitting my offer to the Los Angeles committee. I was satisfied that the committee would attempt to stifle attempts on the part of communities outside of the big city to get their propositions before the regents."

The inquiry from the board secretary was received before the meeting in Los Angeles this week of the Southern California site committee, when it was asserted that the Los Angeles group would have the final say as to the site selected. The committee, it was understood, already has agreed on a location in the Beverly Hills district.

where they cannot be observed.

Birds are extremely neat. Many insist on a bath every day. Watch a canary; he will not eat his breakfast before he has had his bath and arranged his feathers. But offer him a bath in a tub that is not perfectly clean, and he will refuse to plunge in.

Swallows bathe only in fresh rain water, so they cannot indulge in the "cold tub" every day. Ducks are also partial to rain water. When a shower falls they ruffle up their feathers to allow the rain to soak in. Ducks living near the sea will fly inland to a great distance for fresh water in which to bathe.

Some birds require both water and soil for a bath, while others use only soil. Sparrows and larks select fine, dry, gritty dust in which they splash and splutter as we do in a bath tub; then with their backs they scoot down their ruffled coats. Then they sit down in a dust filled hollow and covers her feathers with dust and grit. Then she shakes herself and walks forth, clean and fresh.

The rabbit and the tiger both use their forefoot as sponges and their tongues as combs, exactly as kittens do.

Dogs hate dirt and are particular to keep their paws clean. Animals like the antelope, the deer and the giraffe assist one another to "dress." A giraffe that was brought into a zoo kept his coat glossy and bright. He could not reach his neck, however, and soon it became several shades darker than his body.

Cows and horses are sometimes believed to be fast friends because they are often seen showing their affection by licking one another. They may be greatly attached, but this demonstration is really assisting one another to "dress." They have the same habits in this respect as their cousins of the wild.—From Answers, London.

MODERN CALIPH

REGISTRATION FOR ELECTION SETS NEW MARK

Proving the acuteness of interest in the coming recall election at Anaheim, registration figures for the city as announced today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, show a gain in registration of nearly a thousand in the last three months.

The November registration total, 4514, has swelled to 5399 under the impetus of campaign promotion and the efforts of both sides in the recall controversy to get out the vote. The gain for the three months is 885.

Using the customary method of estimating population on a basis of 2 1/2 to 1, the registration indicates that Anaheim has a present population of approximately 13,500.

Anaheim will vote February 3 on the question of recalling its present city trustees, one faction seeking to oust four klan councilmen: Metcalf, Slaback, Knipe and Hasson, while the klan forces are seeking to recall the only non-klan councilman, Godfrey Stock.

The Anaheim registration by precincts for the recall election and for the presidential election last November follows:

Precinct	Recall Presidential	Nov. 1922
Precinct 1	486	401
Precinct 2	406	326

TRUSTEES FAIL TO OUST OFFICIALS

ANAHEIM, Jan. 9.—A crowd of 50 persons, gathered at the regular meeting of the city council here last night, was disappointed when only routine business was transacted. A stormy session of the council had been anticipated. It was said that at last night's meeting certain city employees would be relieved of their positions, but no action was taken in this regard.

In a statement today Bert Moody, city marshal, who was among those mentioned as being slated for the official axe, denied that he had ever been asked to resign or that any effort had been made by the city trustees to oust him.

"I was told by the trustees to enforce all city ordinances and especially the prohibition laws," Moody declared. "I will not deny that I am a klanman. I won't lie to you. A lot of things that come out of the mouths of some of these town cut-ups are immediately swallowed up by some people as the gospel truth. That is one reason so many false reports have been circulated about me."

ORANGE MEN IN COURT

George W. Munger and H. Z. Adams, of Orange, were this afternoon engaged in a law suit on trial in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, involving a demand for $425.

Munger, the plaintiff, declares that sum is due him from Adams for labor. Adams claims that Munger's services were fully paid for. Attorney L. F. Coburn, of Orange, represents Munger, with Attorney S. M. Davis, of Santa Ana, conducting the defense.

Now A WRITTEN Guarantee To Grow Hair

Stop Falling Hair—or Money Refunded

THIS is a direct offer to stop falling hair—to grow new hair. An offer backed by a written guarantee of results or money refunded.

Science has proved that hair bulbs seldom die in the early stages. They merely lie dormant—like a plant bulb in winter. Revive them and the hair grows again. Now a method has been perfected that revives weak, sluggish, inactive hair bulbs. We offer this new treatment to you under a written guarantee.

Hair Grows from a Bulb—Not from a Root

There has been a mistaken idea about hair growth. Authorities now say the hair has no root. Each hair grows from a bulb. Hairs may get sick, weak and fall out. But the hair bulb rarely dies in the early stages. It merely remains inactive—like a plant bulb in winter. Baldness results from inactive hair bulbs. So does falling hair. But—and note this fact well—revive these inactive hair bulbs and the hair grows again.

Causes of Inactive Hair Bulbs Now Treated

Now it is known that 99% of all hair bulb inactivity is due to one or more of four causes. This new method treats these four causes simultaneously and restores dormant hair bulbs to renewed activity. Hence its remarkable success. It stimulates circulation of blood in the scalp—providing nourishment to hair beds—life and vigor to hair bulbs. It removes caked sebum from the hair follicle—allowing sick hair to "breathe"—new hair to push through. It penetrates deep into the hair shaft destroying harmful bacteria that prey on the hair bulb, sapping its strength. It regulates the oil glands to function properly.

You Almost Feel Hair Bulbs Revive

Never before have you used such a treatment. At once you begin to feel its beneficial effect. You will note how clean and cool the scalp feels immediately—and after your first complete application how the whole scalp seems to tingle with renewed life and vigor. You can almost feel the hair bulbs revive.

Written Guarantee in Every Package

Already thousands have used this new treatment. Many had almost given up hope. No matter what your condition or how many tonics you have used unsuccessfully, we urge you to test STIM SCALP TREATMENT. It revives inactive hair bulbs. Stops falling hair. Grows new hair. These statements may seem incredible but remember we assume the risk. We guarantee results or we refund your money without question. Our written guarantee in every package, protects you fully. STIM leaves no after odor—no oil—no greasiness. Sanitas Co., Sta. W., Brooklyn, N. Y.

14 LEAP FROM BURNING HOUSE TO NET BELOW

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Jan. 9.—Fourteen persons leaped to safety in an emergency net stretched by firemen when their escape from the second floor of a burning house was cut off by flames here today. Authorities believe the fire may have been of incendiary origin. Two men were seen running from the house a few minutes before the flames were discovered. Many of those who jumped into the fire nets were women and children. Several mothers, frantic with the flames licking at their backs, gathered children in their arms and leaped out of the windows.

MANY ENJOY PARTY GIVEN FOR CHARITY

Knights of Columbus hall was filled with interested players last night when Capistrano Institute, Y. L. I., gave its benefit card party to increase its charity fund. Twenty-one tables were utilized for 500 and 10 for whist. Prizes were captured by Mrs. G. W. Young and E. L. Flannigan, high scores, Mrs. James Murphy taking the place of a man and Mrs. U. J. Engleman receiving the consolation for 500 and Mrs. Trueblood and P. L. Ruplinger, high and Mrs. Joseph Maag and R. N. Pletzer, low for whist. Refreshments were served by a committee, of which Miss Helen Klatt was chairman. Next Tuesday will be the regular meeting for Capistrano Institute, and a large attendance is hoped. The Knights of Columbus have now installed gas heaters in the hall, and it is now very comfortable.

AUXILIARY HEAD AND STAFF MEET

It was an enthusiastic group of women which met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nannie H. Reed, 309 East First street. Mrs. Reed, the newly installed president of Calumet auxiliary, Spanish War Veterans, had issued a call to her staff of officers, and appointed all of them to form the executive board of the auxiliary.

The new president outlined the plan of work for the year and appointed a chairman for each month of the year. The first social meeting will be held on January 29 at the G. A. R. hall, with Mrs. Emma King Wassum as chairman.

The Reed home was decorated with carnations and roses, which were presented to Mrs. Reed when she was installed. After the work of the afternoon had been concluded, Mrs. Reed served refreshments.

WOMAN SWINDLER WARNING IS GIVEN

Herman Zabel, head of the bureau of identification for Orange county, today issued warnings to Santa Ana shoe dealers and department stores, to be on the lookout for the woman of many aliases, who is wanted in Long Beach, on a number of charges of passing worthless checks.

The woman, according to Zabel, is known by the names of Mrs. W. S. Luther, Mrs. George W. Carruthers, Mrs. W. F. Luthers, Mrs. K. R. Parton, Mrs. E. A. Stanton, Mrs. Phillip E. Stanley, Mrs. George A. Carruthers, Mrs. W. F. Luther, Mrs. E. A. Stanley and Mrs. Fred L. Stanley.

Aside from being a clever check passer, the woman is also charged with being a "stunning" looking person, with an easy tongue.

She is apparently 35 years of age, five feet, five inches in height, has medium dark brown hair and weighs about 127 pounds.

The woman favors brown for a color, according to information, and dresses in brown almost entirely. When last seen she wore a brown dress, brown coat and a dark turban.

ASTROLOGIST CLAIMS NEW YEAR WILL BE FILLED BY TREACHERY, DEATH, WAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A year of treachery, sickness, death, restlessness, war and labor troubles.

A year in which the people of America will demand their rights, though their fate will lie in the hands of others.

This cheerful prognostication for 1925 is made by Madame Marcia, Washington astrologist, famous for her predictions of important events, including the death of President Harding.

Madame Marcia explains that the country will start its new year under the zodiac sign Libra.

"Libra stands for justice and a balancing of accounts," she explains. "It is the sign of the United States and is sometimes called The Eagle."

"Under the sign the minds of the people will revert to the old colonial days and they will demand a reduction of taxes, such as the income tax, and repeal of laws infringing on personal liberty, such as the prohibition law."

"But their fate will be in the hands of others—government officials and foreign nations which try to dictate our policies, as in the case of the sinking of the battleship Washington."

Libra also stands for wild gambling and Madame Marcia predicts that millions will be lost and won on the stock exchange.

"The moon will be afflicted by seven planets," she declares. "Venus, Mercury, Mars, Uranus, Jupiter, Neptune and Saturn, which is a particularly bad omen."

"The influence of Venus will make America as a country of kindly and tolerant with good intentions toward all. Her people will be amiable and pleasure-loving. This, however, will be more than counterbalanced by the influences of Mercury, which breeds restlessness and trickery."

"Labor troubles will result from this and it will be well to watch country back on its feet."

"This, however, will not be until Libra has run its course and the zodiac sign, Scorpio, is in ascendance."

"Misfortune will overtake President Coolidge some time near inauguration in March. Either he will be visited by illness or some official he depends much upon will die."

"Financial conditions will be at their worst in January and November. In April there will be war, or rumor of war, either between capital and labor, or with some foreign country. Possibly both."

"In January will come a partial eclipse of the sun, its path stretching from California to Buffalo, N. Y. In the eclipse zone will be devastation and destruction, such as cyclones, earthquakes and floods."

SODAS ARE BANNED HULL, England, Jan. 9.—Flavored ice cream sodas, although never popular in England, now have been barred altogether from Hull. This action came about as the result of many illnesses that were traced to unclean flavoring materials.

BOB HOUSE-TO-HOUSE PARIS, Jan. 9.—The house-to-house hair bobber has made his appearance in Paris. M. Chantille, expert barber, has closed his downtown shop and is confining himself to visits to the homes of the residential sections of the city. He probably is the most sought-after barber in Paris.

DOORBELL POPULAR

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—A newly-invented doorbell that will ring steadily for five minutes or until the door is opened is enjoying a large sale in Berlin and surrounding cities. The bell precludes the possibility of not hearing the ring of peddlers—which is an argument both for and against the invention, dealers say.

FILES TO REVIEW

The first action of its kind to be filed in Orange county was brought today in the superior court when A. W. Cleaver of Fullerton, petitioned for a writ of review of proceedings in Justice William French's small claims court at Fullerton.

Justice French, on December 26, gave judgment against Cleaver for $14.14, in favor of Mrs. E. A. Greenwell, who sued in the small claims court there. The time for appeal having expired, Cleaver petitioned the superior court for the writ of review.

MEMORY TEST FAILS

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Otto Kuhnner was afraid he would forget his wife's birthday, which was to occur in two days. So he wrote himself a letter and mailed it. The letter became lost and arrived four years later—just in time to remind him of another of his wife's birthdays.

TOSS OF GOOD LUCK

Local Librarian Reports Many Women Seek to Learn How to Cook

BLIND MIXING BOWL USE IS NOW PASSE

Attractive Display of Many Books Pleases Brides and Brides-to-Be

If Cervantes had met up with the twentieth century physicians, dietitians, food experts, nutritionists, and the like, he probably would have refrained from writing into his famous Don Quixote the familiar saying, "the proof of the pudding is the eating." But in those good old days of nut brown ale and roast beef, men lived in blissful ignorance of food values—such words as "protein" and "calory" had not been added to the dictionary.

A visit to the public library will soon convince the average housekeeper that the old fashioned cooking is rapidly becoming a lost art, and this is the golden age of scientific nutrition.

As a matter of fact, the emergence of the housewife's occupation into the domain of the learned professions, is having its effects on that worthy institution. There is an ever increasing demand for reference material along the line of scientific cooking.

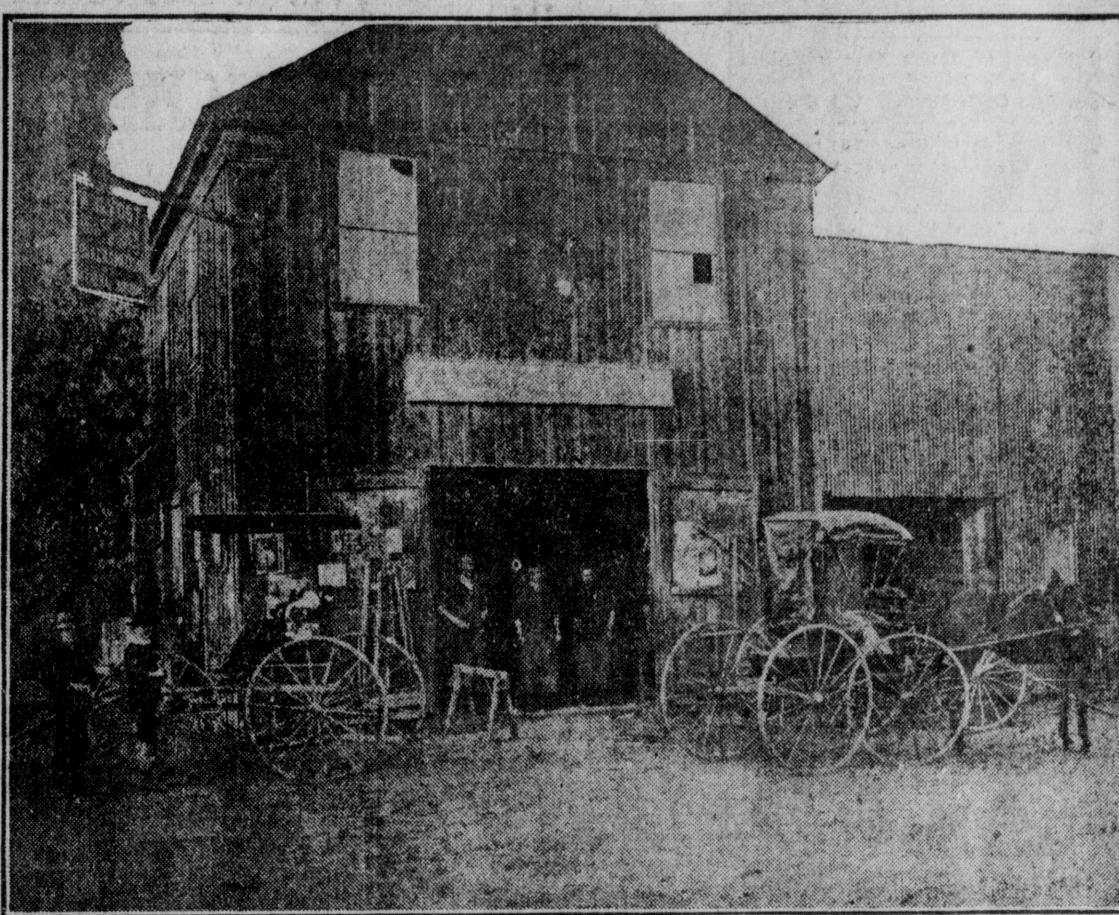

Time was when it was possible for the young bride to stir up in the bowl without no other knowledge or experience than that gained while minding her mama. In these enlightened times, however, the housewife and cook would not think of adding as much as a grain of salt to the soup without first consulting bulky volumes on food values.

Attracting the attention of the visitor as he enters the lobby of the library is a large bulletin board, placed above a display table. It reads:

"Your Health Diet and Exercise—Books that will help you keep well."

The display table is covered with books on the subject. Here are a few of the titles: "The Science of

Santa Ana 36 years ago was a far different city from the Santa Ana of today, as can be seen by the above picture of the Yost blacksmith shop which at that time stood on the northeast corner of Fifth and Broadway. The photo was taken in 1889.

SANTA ANA CO-EDS CONDEMN IDEA OF DRESS REGULATION, CLAIM NOT NECESSARY HERE

Uniform dress regulations at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school are emphatically "taboo." Voicing unanimous disapproval of all "interference with personal rights" and firing a broadside into the ranks of "nervy" meddling people, local co-eds are of one opinion concerning the action of Assemblywoman Eleanor Miller of Pasadena, who intends to introduce in the coming session of the legislature a bill to empower the school boards to curb extremes of dress among high school girls.

"We can't show any originality if we are required to wear the same middy day after day," declared Miss Annie Tarver, president of the Girls' league, an organization that includes every girl in the school. "She has her nerve," Miss Tarver continued, referring to Mrs. Miller. "I think it is entirely a personal matter with each student. I don't think anyone has a right to interfere. Of course there may be extremes but we do not have any such problem here in this school."

Miss Kate Benton, president of the girls' Athena club, has no intention of "entering a prison" as she terms it and says so. "It would make us feel like convicts to have to wear uniform dresses. The individual personality of students is expressed in the way they dress," she declared.

Dress restriction for the girls would seem to Miss Edith B. Aiton, faculty advisor for the girls, to lead to undesirable extremes. "After a girl has been held to certain regulations involuntarily she will revolt, and freedom means to her the right to use paint and powder to the limit and dress as indiscreetly as she wishes."

"By experimenting with the styles a girl learns how to dress," stated Miss Aiton. "If as a student in high school she is not sensible enough to correct ideas of dress then she never will be."

Added Expense, Claim One of the arguments against uniform dress advanced by Miss Aiton is its added expense. Girls are required to keep two wardrobes she said, and the cost of the middies might be saved by permitting the girls to wear the dresses they already have on hand.

"While the Santa Ana co-eds are strongly opposed to regulation it has proved to be means of doing away with all problem of dress," according to Miss Aiton. "The girls here are moderate and simple in their tastes," she said, "and this is due in part to the example set by the girls' leaders. Among nearly 500 girls at the school there has been only one case of tawdrous dress and two where extremes of cosmetics were brought before our attention."

Miss Aiton expressed the opinion that it was the duty in the home to correct failings of the girls.

Acts As Damper The girls are so strongly opposed to uniform dress that they say it dampens school spirit. Twice in recent years, Miss Thelma Patton, leader among the girls, said that the school had voted down the proposals for dress regulation. At the Southern California convention of Girls' Leagues held last fall, representatives from Santa Ana championed the cause of individual dress most spiritedly.

It developed at the girls' conference that there are but seven schools the size of Santa Ana that did not enforce dress regulation. And Santa Ana girls are unanimous in declaring they are going to remain free from regulations without regard to what Mrs. Miller thinks about reform.

Dr. H. D. Newkirk, of Anaheim, today had assumed the presidency of the Orange County Medical association, following his election to the position at the annual meeting of the association, held at the Ebell club house here. Dr. R. P. Yagie, of Santa Ana, is the retiring president.

Dr. Bessie Martell and Dr. Dexter Ball, both of Santa Ana, were named respectively, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. The thirty-seventh annual meeting of the organization was attended by 75 members. The Rev. Walter Thornton, pastor of the First Christian church at Fullerton, delivered the principal address of the evening. Brief talks were made by Dr. Yagie, Dr. J. I. Clark and Mrs. J. P. Brastad.

SUCCESS TALK IS DELIVERED TO S. A. CLUB

Dick Carlson, Economist, Is Heard By Local Lions at Noon Session

Dick Carlson, a well known economic expert and originator and conductor of the Y. M. C. A. Success Institute, was the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club held yesterday at St. Ann's Inn. "Ups and Downs" was the subject of his address, which illustrated by stereopticon charts, dealt with economic conditions and resultant business psychology.

Quoting statistics prepared by economic departments of well known universities and other national authorities, the speaker asserted that business in its different expressions and varied manifestations moves in cycles, with booms and panic, good years and bad years, bumps and slumps.

Today, he remarked, economic experts agree that Newton's law of action and reaction applies as much to human relations as to other fields.

Commenting upon the surprisingly large percentage of men who fail to achieve success in life, the speaker said that in many instances it was due to worry, in some form or another.

Ever since the time of the seven fat and lean years in Egypt as recorded in Scriptures there has been ups and downs in business, and there always will be, he explained.

Since men began to barter and exchange commodities, business conditions have been the same and will continue to remain the same—rise and fall in prices, expansion and contraction in markets, increases and decreases in production, orders accumulating and vanishing.

The fact was realized about twenty years ago by a few astute business men and large investors, who then set about to arrange their affairs in accordance with this newly discovered principle.

At that time Roger Babson, employed by a Boston bank, was making charts of prices and other factors governing trade and economic conditions. His observations suggested Newton's law "to every action there is opposed an equal and opposite reaction." He was so impressed with his work that he went to England and there studied Newton's original writings and found that the great scientist himself had prophesied that the basic law would some day be recognized as true governing principle in human relations as well as in the fields of physics and mechanics.

Another speaker on the program was Jay Durr, Southern California representative of the California Dairy Council, who outlined the details of a nutrition program to be put on in the schools with the cooperation of the school authorities and civic organizations.

A portion of the meeting was devoted to the reading of annual administration reports prepared by the retiring officers.

ESTATE IS SUING TO COLLECT NOTE

Fate was unkind to C. B. Sterner and a good deed drew a left handed reward with reverse English on it, according to his defense today to a suit for $500 being tried before Superior Judge F. C. Brumm.

Edwin B. Thomas, executor of the estate of the late Annie B. Sterner, filed the action against Sterner on behalf of the estate, to recover $500. This amount was alleged to be due on a note executed by Sterner to the deceased before her death.

Sterner's answer to the complaint was to deny that any value had been received by him for the note. The deceased had asked him for a loan of $500, and not having the cash on hand he had given her the note, he stated, to use as security with which to obtain the cash elsewhere. It was understood, of course, that she was to pay off any such loan when it was due and return the note to him. He supposed this had been done and that the note had been destroyed, he said.

Thus the history of the note was believed to be the hinge upon which the case would swing one way or another, depending upon Sterner's ability to prove his contention.

ANAHEIM DOCTOR IS MEDICAL HEAD MAKES SECOND TRY TO SECURE DECREE

Once balked in his attempt to secure a divorce, because he could not sufficiently corroborate his charges of cruelty, George C. Hoisington, of Fullerton, was back in the superior court today with a new petition for divorce from Ruth Roisington, and new charges.

Misconduct with another man, named in the petition as Paul Reya, was charged by the husband. Following the failure of his first divorce action Hoisington waited his opportunity and indicated, in his complaint, that he obtained the necessary evidence two days ago. He filed the new divorce action through Attorney H. Delamere Thurber of Fullerton.

The Hoisingtons were married at Lansing, Michigan, in 1919. They have a daughter, aged 3.

Here is a picture of the largest still ever captured in Orange county and said to be one of the best equipped. It was found on Lemon Heights Wednesday night by deputies of Sheriff Sam Jernigan. Two thousand gallons of mash, 100 gallons of whiskey and 100 new one gallon cans were also captured in the raid. The men in the picture, credited with the captures, are, left to right, Deputy Sheriffs Jack Combs, Dan Adams, Joe Ryan and C. D. Flowers, and Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan.

$5000 SOUGHT FOR COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

BY ALFRED AULT

One thousand dollars is the sum sought this year for the junior college scholarship fund from which loans are made to deserving students, according to E. M. Nealley, junior college teacher, who spoke before the high school Parent Teachers' association yesterday afternoon.

To aid in gaining this sum the P.T.A. decided to present a play at the high school auditorium, the proceeds of which were to be turned over to the fund. The date of the play is indefinite.

In explaining the purpose of the fund Nealley dwelt on the fact that the money was only given to students of high scholarship rating who, unaided would find it impossible to continue through college. Mr. Nealley with Miss Jennie B. Lauby and Mrs. Robert Northrop form the committee in charge of the fund.

Four Students Get Aid Four students have been given loans from the fund since it was started in 1921 Nealley stated.

"This year there are four or five students in junior college who will require aid if they are to continue. In all these cases the loans expected to be made to the students are only sufficient to get the student started. He finds it necessary to work to make his expenses."

"It is not the ideal way to have the students work while studying in college, but it is the only way to get an education and if he must work he shortens his study hours and often his health under the strain."

Reports Encouraging "Up to date the fund has amounted to $1,007.28. Reports from the students who have been benefited are very encouraging. One of the boys went to the Institute of Technology in Pasadena and passed the highest test ever given there. It speaks well for our own schools," Nealley declared.

"When the loans now out are paid back by the students the fund will become a revolving sum. At present the fund is being maintained by penny drives in the schools on Lincoln's birthday and by contributions."

EXPECT SEAL SALES WILL REACH $5000

Mrs. John Clarkson, executive secretary for the Orange County Tuberculosis association, which has been conducting the annual sale of Christmas seals, the little double barreled emblem which brings in the funds for fighting the dread white plague in this county, announced today that the sale probably will reach $5000, as contributions are still coming in.

The sale began Thanksgiving day with 10,000 letters put in the mails, and closed on Christmas. While the goal was set at $10,000, and only half was reached, Mrs. Clarkson states that the sale is satisfactory, being double that of last year.

There probably are many people who laid aside the envelope containing the seals during the holiday rush, and this will be a reminder to them that their contribution will be welcomed now.

In the 16 years of conducting annual seal sales more than $30,000,000 has been realized. Everybody who has purchased the little emblem has been a partner in this great campaign.

What have all the millions of supporters of the Christmas seal helped to accomplish? There are now more than 600 hospitals and sanitariums with 70,000 beds, and over 600 clinics and dispensaries where persons may go for patriotic examinations. Ten thousand nurses are detecting diseases in schools and homes and are giving not only treatment but helpful instructions to mothers and children. Research workers and statisticians are collecting data of untold value. Newspaper and magazine articles have helped to appeal to all ages, types and classes of both native and foreign born.

California each year has supported the seal movement generously and was one of the first states to recognize the great humanitarian benefits to be derived by the sale of seals.

Orange county has just obtained a good start, the association putting in a county nurse last year, and maintaining a public health camp in Trabuco canyon last summer, for undernourished and underweight children. It is hoped to carry on this work this summer upon a much larger scale.

LEMON ASS N. AT VILLA PARK IS SHOWN AS BEST MANAGED

Leads Other Exchanges By Twenty-even and Half Cents Per Box

ANNUAL MEETING IS HELD THURSDAY

Shortage Before Fall Is Twenty-seven and Half Cents Per Box

Showing a return for the 1924 crop of lemons of an average of 27 1/2 cents a box more than any other exchange among the 75 identified with the California Fruit Growers' exchange, and 12 1/2 cents a box more than any exchange in the Orange County Fruit Exchange, the Central Lemon Growers' association at Villa Park today stood out in the citrus world as one of the best managed associations in the state.

This fact was revealed at the annual meeting of the association held at the packing house yesterday, and success of the management was further emphasized by the fact that that association is the largest in the world, handling last year 532 carloads as against an average of 150 cars for each of the other associations.

L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange county Fruit Exchange, with headquarters at Orange, declared that any grower member who would withdraw from an association making such a record in face of conditions obtaining in the lemon industry last year, was very unappreciative of efforts in his behalf.

Discussing conditions of the past season, the manager said the low prices received was due to attempts to market a heavy crop by forcing the market, and by the policy of some associations in storing their fruit on the trees through the winter and then sending into the market fruit that did not have sufficient life to withstand shipment, and a period of thirty days following marketing.

No Shortage Predicted Estimating that lemons had been damaged at least 20 per cent by the recent cold snap, Palmer said this heavy cultivation of the production for 1925 would not create a demand because of shortage.

"There will be 9500 carloads of lemons to ship, it is anticipated at this time, and there will be no shortage before next fall, if there is a shortage," said the manager. "I do not look for high prices, based on shortage. The most serious result from the freeze, probably will be that brokers will get the impression that there will be a shortage and will turn to foreign grown lemons and flood the market with them about the time the California lemons go on the market."

He predicted that lemons would go to $7 a box next week.

Pointing to the new policy of marketing lemons that will be made effective this year, E. B. Collier, manager of the association, predicted better returns in the future. The new policy places in the hands of the California Fruit Growers Exchange full authority to control the quality and quantity of fruit to be shipped in the future. In the past individual associations have shipped as they pleased, without regard to quantity in the light of market conditions, and in many instances without due regard for quality.

Says Move Is Important "This is one of the most important moves in the history of the industry."

ant moves made since the industry was started, and it will put the industry on a sound business basis," Collier said.

Pointing out that he and C. C. Teague, president of the state organization and others had tried more than a year ago to put over the plan of centralizing control of quality and quantity shipping, Collier said the scheme was defeated by growers who practiced "sharp-shooting" (beating other growers to the market refusing to co-operate in the movement).

"It has taken the catastrophe of the past year to bring these men to their senses and they now see the wisdom of centralized control," he added.

Picking, Packing Costs Lower
In making his annual report to the members, the manager disclosed that picking costs the past year were three cents a box less than last year and packing costs 5 cents a box less, and this despite the fact that wages both years were the same.

"A lemon is a lemon in weight but not in quality," Collier said in stressing the point that the most important factor in the growing of the best quality—quality being possible by proper attention to correct cultivation, irrigation, fumigation and other things that enter into good, practical lemon growing.

The low prices received for the last season product was particularly emphasized by the annual report of the manager, which showed that with virtually double the tonnage in 1924 the receipts were less than for the previous year. In 1923 the average return at the packing house was $4.23 per 100 pounds of delivered weight, while in 1924 the return was $1.24 on each 100 pounds delivered.

Part of the low average for 1924 was due to the fact of the 23,757,594 pounds of fruit picked, 5,502,446 pounds were sent to the exchange by-products plant at Corona. Collier said that it was believed that $10 a ton would be the net return for this fruit.

For graded fruit sold in 1924 the average per 100 pounds was $2 while in 1923 it was $4.92.

During the afternoon session other addresses were made, among them one by Leon Whitsell, who recounted features of the recent fruit growers convention in the northern part of the state.

At the business session in the forenoon the old board of directors was re-elected, and in the afternoon the board organized by retaining the officers who served the past year. The officers and directors are: M. P. Poplewell, president; L. O. Whitsell, vice president; E. B. Collier, secretary and manager; L. A. Stevenson, assistant secretary; M. B. Allen, C. H. Jeffrey and H. T. Thomson.

Three hundred men and women were served at the annual dinner held in the big packing house, the Villa Park Aid society catering.

INSTALL ROYAL ARCH OFFICERS

Carl H. Kaufmann is the new high priest of Santa Ana chapter No. 73, Royal Arch Masons, having been inducted into office with other officers at a public installation held in the Masonic temple last night. Dancing and cards followed the ceremonies. About 250 members of the Masonic fraternity and their families were present.

R. J. White, retiring high priest and installing officer, was presented with a gold watch and chain by members of the chapter. The presentation speech was made by A. E. Prink, principal sojourner of the chapter. L. B. Butterfield, a past high priest, now a resident of San Pedro, acted as marshal. Mr. Butterfield also gave a short talk.

The chapter room was decorated with palm leaves, pepper bushes, ferns, flowers and the Royal Arch colors. Two chapter songs were sung by Maurice Phillips. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Chapman orchestra.

Following are those installed: High priest, Carl H. Kaufmann; king, W. L. Kaufmann; scribe, Asa Hoffman; secretary, W. W. Cleveland. Rev. W. R. Roberts; captain of the host, Charles McCausland and principal sojourner, A. E. Prink; Royal Arch captain, E. C. Greley; master of the third veil, W. D. ## WATCH BILLS ON JUNIOR COLLEGE

Keen interest in legislation affecting the status of junior colleges is shown by local school trustees and school executives. Inquiries revealed today at the board of education offices. City Superintendent J. A. Cranston intimated that he would communicate with Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft for the purpose of ascertaining what steps, if any, are being taken at the present session of the state legislature to secure enabling legislation that will pave the way for the consolidation of the Santa Ana and Fullerton Junior colleges, or the establishment of a union junior college for the county.

Following is a press dispatch received this morning from Sacramento: "Assemblyman Hartranft today said he had no plans to ask legislation toward amalgamation of Fullerton and Santa Ana Junior colleges. 'While I am president of the Fullerton school board, I have made no plans for such move,' he said."

Relieves Sterner of Note Liability

A superior court judgment on file today relieved C. B. Sterner of the necessity of paying a $500 note, which he gave to another person instead of money, when requested for a loan.

Judge F. S. Drumm late yesterday decided a suit brought against Sterner by Edwin B. Thomas, executor of the estate of the late Annie Sterner, in connection with the note. Judgment was given in favor of the defendant, who held that he had received no consideration for the note, which had been given to the deceased before her death in order that she might raise money on it elsewhere.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 9.—Grammar school opened Monday with almost the entire enrollment present, and several new comers, some from Oklahoma. Wallace McCoy, seventh grade pupil, who had been kept out of school the first part of the term, answered the roll call Monday. Although ill, and not able to attend school, this pupil, under the tutelage of his mother, kept up with the studies during the first part of the term, and thus was able to go along with his class when school opened Monday. Basketball goals have been erected on the school grounds, on the west, and teams will be organized at once. Framework for six swings for the younger children also is in place. As there was only one swing on the grounds, this apparatus was hailed with delight. Miss Jessie McCoy arrived Sunday from Downey to take up her residence here with the W. B. McCoy family. The school of Miss Lessner started with a vim Monday, and with the Christmas holidays behind them, the teachers are expecting the pupils to be able to concentrate their minds on the work before them.

Alvin Smith, first grade student, who broke his hip the first day of school, was not able to return to school. Although Alvin has recovered the use of his limb, it was thought it best to keep him out for fear of another fracture. Many Westminster friends paid their last respects Monday morning to A. W. Schone, 63 years old, who died suddenly at his home in Wintersburg on New Year's eve. Funeral was from Winbigler's Mission Funeral parlors in Santa Ana. The Westminster I. O. O. F. No. 172, of which he was an old member, had charge of the burial in Huntington Beach cemetery. Mrs. Lulu Nankervis sang "Jesus Loves Me" at the service. Mr. Schone is survived by two daughters, Hattie and Viola, and two sons, Harry Allys and William, of Gardena. The Schones reside in Westminster for years.

Communion service held by the present pastor for the first time in the Presbyterian church here Sunday was impressive, and a large number partook. Fourteen members were taken into the church. They are Mrs. R. A. Weld, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Bould, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rix, Mr. and Mrs. O. Olson, Robert and Howard Bould, Mrs. J. Baxter, Mrs. Frances Penhall, Walter Baker and Vivian and Anna Weld. Walter Baker was baptized and Vivian and Anna Weld were received on confession of faith; the rest came by letter. Changing the order of the service somewhat, C. C. Johnson, elder, read the scripture lesson from the pulpit, and offered prayer. At the close of the service, Mrs. Weld, Mrs. O. B. Byram and Miss Fern Byram sang. Those having infants they wish to baptize are requested to notify the minister as he is planning to have the babies of the church baptized one Sunday in the next two or three weeks. Clemente Mender, Spanish student in Miss Evans' room, left Monday morning for Gardena, where he will begin to study for the ministry.

Mrs. Alice Hare was in Los Angeles Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Penhall and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penhall witnessed the ball game at Irvine Sunday, against Garden Grove. The game was a tie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walton dined with friends in Hynes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Greenhaw of Bellflower and Earline and Edna Carter were guests Sunday in the Henry West home. Part of the afternoon was spent in Long Beach.

The Rebekah dance scheduled for Saturday night here was postponed on account of the death of A. W. Schone, who was a member of the order.

Mrs. Beatrice Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. William LaToosh attended a dance in Long Beach Saturday night.

Cancellations at the postoffice showed a large increase during 1924 over 1923. When the cancellation reaches $250 a quarter for four consecutive quarters, the office is automatically raised to third class. This point has not been reached here.

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 9.—Will happily skating on roller skates he had received for Christmas, William Edward Turpin, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Turpin fell on the sidewalk late Friday afternoon and broke a bone in his left forearm, just above the wrist. Cautioning his little sister not to tell his mother, the little fellow got up and skated away to the doctor's office alone, so as not to frighten the family. It was just five months ago to a day that the other child in this family broke her arm in a fall from a swing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gill and son.

Installation teams of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows, under Mrs. Lulu Nankervis and D. W. C. Dimock, have been busy practicing for the semi-annual installation of officers, which begins this week with installation of officers at Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Winton of Los Angeles, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall. Mr. Winton, O. J. Day and Francis Penhall left Wednesday for a few days' duck shooting in the Imperial valley.

Mrs. O. B. Byram was hostess at a New Year's dinner party for the Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Weld and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Daniels motored to Balboa and to the auto races in Santa Ana on New Year's day.

As Ralph Rumbold was returning home from his work Tuesday morning about 7:30, traveling north on the Huntington Beach boulevard, near Midway City, a light touring car ran into his roadster, as it was attempting to go around a truck coming from the opposite direction. The fog was heavy and although Mr. Rumbold had switched on his lights, it is thought that Mr. Wright, of Santa Ana, driver of the car meeting him, did not see that the right-of-way was not clear, and therefore attempted to pass.

Damage to Mr. Rumbold's car amounted to $40.

While on their way to the watch party at the Presbyterian church Wednesday night about 11:30, a heavy touring car full of young folk, and owned and driven by Verne Hodges of Garden Grove was struck by another heavy car driven by George H. Arneal of Long Beach. Mr. Hodges was crossing Westminster avenue at the Patterson Feed store to go to the church, and Mr. Arneal was driving east on the Westminster boulevard.

Miss Ruby Arnett, who was in the Hodges car, was cut at the back of her head by glass. She was the only one hurt. Damages to Mr. Arneal's car was estimated at $225 and about $125 was the damage to Mr. Hodges' car.

About forty men and women gathered in the Presbyterian church here New Year's eve to await the coming of 1925. Following a talk by the pastor, Miss Fern Byram sang, and the young folk went into the Sunday school room which had been made ready for the evening's frolic.

Herman Thompson, superintendent of the Sunday school, met with the teachers in the back part of the church, where plans were made for the transferring of the classes to the new building when it is finished. The class of Mrs. J. Walton, which numbers 34, will be divided into three parts, Mrs. Walton retaining the girls from 6 to 8. Mrs. Rix taking over the girls from 8 to 10, while P. P. McClintock will have the boys from her class. Refreshments were served just after the arrival of the New Year which was lustily greeted by the crowd of young folk.

C. E. Murdock, driving in a car to Santa Ana, crashed into a horse and buggy standing on the Huntington Beach boulevard Thursday night about 7:30, just northeast of the Ocean View school. He said he did not see the tail-light, for two of the occupants of the buggy, Mexicans, were standing at the back of the buggy between him and the light. One of the Mexicans was injured on the right shoulder, knee and hand, and was given first aid at the Emergency hospital in Huntington Beach. The buggy was completely wrecked.

Mrs. Mary Mara and Mrs. Floyd Hestret of Los Angeles, were dinner guests of Mrs. A. E. Carter on New Year's day.

Mrs. A. D. Skinner is in San Diego visiting her brother, A. McDuffy, for a few days.

Her Tragic Mistake

Not all the tragedies of life are played in the city. A mere farm may provide the background for as thrilling a drama as ever was unfolded. Minnie found that out. Born and raised on the farm, the discontent that came of drudgery grew swiftly into revolt. She longed to escape—to meet real men and women—to enjoy the ease and pleasure she believed were to be found in the great world outside her own.

This true story of a farm-girl who wanted life and "freedom," might well be the story of any girl. It is entitled "A Strange Marriage," and appears as one of the many absorbing features in True Story Magazine for February.

WHOLE WORLD CONTRIBUTES TO MEDICINE

Ginger from India—Iodine from Chile—Olive Oil from Italy—Epsom Salt from England—Menthol from Japan and roots and herbs from almost every country in the world contribute their share towards alleviating the ills of the race. WALKER—Vaudeville and "The Bandolero," with Renee Adoree.

YOST—Elliott Dexter in person in "The Havoc," and "Tarnish," with Norman Kerry, May McAvoy and Marie Prevost.

WEST END—"The Thief of Bagdad," with Douglas Fairbanks.

"THE BANDOLERO" OPENS AT WALKER THEATER

If you have never been to sunny Spain, with its dreamy, dark-eyed señoritas and dashing young dragons—

If you have never known strong loves and passions, the restless ache of revenge and the fire of hate—

If you have never seen a bull-fight, an outlaw chief, and his daring band; never known intrigue and the faith of young love—

If you enjoy a dramatic, absorbing photoplay, enacted by excellent players, you must see "The Bandolero," which begins tonight at the Walker theater. You'll be thrilled by this Metro-Goldwyn picture, directed by Tom Terriss; you'll be carried off to old Granada, to romance and intrigue. See "The Bandolero" tonight or Saturday.

FAIRBANKS' "THE THIEF" CLOSING TOMORROW

Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in the marvelous Arabian Nights tale, "The Thief of Bagdad," at the West End theater for the last times tomorrow.

It was the great good fortune of the screen, that Douglas Fairbanks came upon this amazingly romantic love story and that he undertook to make it into a photoplay.

Moving picture critics, in such cities as "The Thief of Bagdad" has been shown, have been unanimous in asserting that it is the greatest film ever made. When it is considered that his story depicts from the affairs of everyday life and soars off into dream-land; that there has been visualized and made real the soaring away of the Magic Carpet over the house-tops and into the sky; the Winged Horse, with the Thief galloping off to and through the clouds; the Magic Rope which the Thief throws into the air and climbs into the sky, up into all sorts of places—it will be seen that "The Thief of Bagdad" is no mere spectacle; no mere bringing together of crowds to appal the multitude.

When a crowd or even an army is desired, the Thief simply takes a seed from a box, throws it on the ground, and lo! a huge army with banners springs from the earth. This sort of thing is the warp and woof of "The Thief of Bagdad." This is a fantasy, not a mere dragging together of human beings.

However, "The Thief of Bagdad" is no mere stringing together of astonishing, surprising and astounding happenings; it is indeed a highly romantic story, never departed from for mere spectacle's sake, but into which in the development of the story, come all these various tremendously exciting occurrences.

"FLOODGATES" NOW ON SCREEN AT TEMPLE

Has a doctor ever the right to refuse to perform a vital operation? This interesting question is raised in "Floodgates," the great motion picture now being shown at the Temple theater.

The action of the story centers around a child of one of the characters. She has been injured in an automobile accident and has been crippled. Doctors state that she will never walk again. It is learned that the famous Dr. Jan Vedos, who has effected many marvelous cures, will visit the city where the child is and it is believed that he alone can cure her by an operation. He is due to sail for Europe and refuses to miss the boat, and so he is kidnapped and carried to the child's bedside and finding that he cannot get away, performs the operation, which is successful.

This unusual situation gives rise to the question: Should such a situation occur in real life, would the doctor, knowing that he out of all his profession could cure her, be justified in refusing to perform the operation, no matter what other calls there were on his time? No matter how you feel about it, you are sure to enjoy this picture which is one of the best we have seen in some time.

"TARNISH" PICTORIZATION OF BROADWAY PLAY

The picturization of Gilbert Emery's famous Broadway stage success, "Tarnish," is described by Director George Mitzmaurice as a glorious romance with its depths of sorrow and heights of joy.

"It is a marvelous love story," says Director Mitzmaurice. "I have directed many pretentious productions, but 'Tarnish' is the first story wherein I had to stick close to human nature rather than dabbling with the colorful pageantry of society."

This production is showing at Walker's theater. An all-star cast interprets the varied roles, and these include Marie Prevost, May McAvoy, Ronald Colman, Norman Kerry, Priscilla Bevan, Albert Gran and Mrs. Russ Whittall.

OUR NEIGHBORS

PASADENA—Natural gas may be used by the Municipal Light and Power company instead of oil in firing boilers for generating electrical energy for light and power purposes. City Manager C. W. Kolber stated that he is having a survey made to ascertain whether it is possible to obtain a supply of natural gas.

SAN BERNARDINO—New equipment for removal of snow on the crest in the San Bernardino mountains has been received by the state highway commission. The equipment includes three heavy snow plows, one with a 10-foot blade to be pushed by an artillery tractor, and two with 8-foot blades to be pushed by quad trucks. One of the latter plows will be sent to Fawnskin, while the other two will be used on the crest.

BRAWLEY—Lettuce sold here this week at f. o. b. $2.25, the top of the season and a dollar and more above the average for last season. The previous high of the present season was $2, offered during most of last week. Buyers are numerous in the valley in search of lettuce contracts. Reports tell of good consumers' demand and active markets east. Quality of the Imperial valley crop, now estimated at around 10,000 cars, has been exceptional this season, benefiting from cold weather, which has made firm, hard heads with minimum of leaf.

POMONA—Mountains to the north of Ontario, from the Los Angeles county line, will be in the San Bernardino forest reserve within a few days, it was believed when details of separating the Angeles reserve into two districts became known. Separate supervisors for the San Bernardino reserve will be appointed soon. The new reserve will take in the range from the county line north of this city to the Cleveland reserve which includes San Jacinto peak and mountains in that district.

PASADENA—Approval of initial plans for a new McKinley elementary school and a new Emerson elementary school has been given by the Pasadena board of education. The new McKinley building will be erected on South Hudson avenue at Center street, the present McKinley main plant on Oak Knoll avenue at Center to be given over entirely to junior high school uses. The new elementary building will be two stories high and contain 25 classrooms, auditorium and lunch-room units will be added at some future time.

USE WRONG BOXES.
MADRID, Jan. 9.—Close resemblance between the mail boxes and waste paper receptacles on Madrid streets has brought about considerable confusion. Many persons mail letters in the waste boxes and throw waste where letters should be mailed. Civic authorities are considering doing away with the one or the other.

STAMPS A MYSTERY.
ROME, Jan. 9.—Threatening letters, bearing mysterious red stamps, have been received through the mails by several of Rome's wealthiest men. The stamps bear a picture of a stooped old man with a dagger in his hand. The letters all tell the rich men of their approaching "doom."

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9.—

A racial question in the national capital, which promises to grow to sizable proportions, has developed around a proposal for a bathing beach for the city's colored population on the Tidal Basin opposite the Lincoln Memorial.

To understand just what this means, it is necessary first to know that approximately one-third, or more than 150,000 of Washington's inhabitants are colored.

It is necessary also to understand that the point at which it is proposed to build the beach is immediately opposite the Potomac Park golf course and along the Potomac Park boulevard, where the city's elite prefer to drive on hot days to get the comparatively cool breezes that waft across the water from the Virginia shore.

The thought of a bathing beach at this point, which would be frequented by thousands of the city's poorer folks of color, is enough to give a lot of capital fashionables apoplexy. It mustn't happen, they say. Awful! Dreadful! What is our capital coming to, anyway?

Voicing this viewpoint, Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has written Secretary of War Weeks, under whose jurisdiction this park "improvement" would come, demanding that he take a "firm stand" against the proposal.

Mrs. Sherman foresees grave international difficulties should the beach be developed at this point, as in doing so it would be necessary to cut down or remove a number of the cherry trees presented the capital 20-odd years ago by the Mikado of Japan.

"It would come with very bad grace on the part of the government of the United States," she says, "to cut down any of the wonderful trees given us by Japan."

Furthermore—"The drive around the Tidal basin is one of the most famous in the world. You can readily see what a collection of parked automobiles would do there, particularly on Saturdays and Sundays. There would surely be trouble."

The problem of a bathing beach for the city's colored third has been complicated by the fact that representatives of the negro population have been resolute in refusing to consider a beach in any location except along the Speedway or in Potomac Park.

The white man's bathing beach is in the Tidal Basin, they say, so why not the negro's?

Isn't this the capital of the United States?

And isn't the black man the equal of the white under this very government?

By this very reason, they choose, as particularly appropriate, the site across from the majestic marble memorial to the Great Emancipator.

Sentimentally, the white population hasn't any answer to this argument or any similarly appropriate alternative as to the site.

But practically, the proposition of this bathing beach is one that is stirring the racial prejudices of the town as nothing has for decades.

If it is to be settled without soreness, it will require all the tact, diplomacy and common sense those in authority here can muster.

Strange are the anomalies in politics. Jim Watson, of Indiana, assistant leader in the Senate arch-foe of the direct primaries, is fearful that the coming session of the Hoosier legislature may repeal the direct primary and thus contribute to his overthrow in 1926.

This because of the fact that Watson's enemies in Indiana, including Ex-Senators New and Beveridge, have their fences so well in hand that they might be able to control a state convention against Jim when he comes up for renomination.

So for the present, feeling his best bet lies in a direct appeal to the voters, Jim wants the primary retained.

BEANPICKERS MEET LAGUNA BEACH SUNDAY

J. C. Fire Begins League Season Tomorrow

EL CENTRO TO OPPOSE LOCAL SQUAD AT 'Y'

Coach Warren Expected to Start Kennedy, Gardner, Dunkin, Claves, Warner

Gunning for the Southern California Junior college conference championship, Coach Leroy ("Boss") Warren's Santa Ana basketball team officially begins its league schedule here tomorrow night against the five from the El Centro Junior college. The game, to be played on the Y. M. C. A. floor, will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

During the last week, Coach Warren has been putting his squad through stiff workouts. He expects to conquer the Imperial Valley men with the whirlwind attack that has been developed.

El Centro will come here with a strong team and confident of beginning the season with a victory, according to reports. On this team last year there was a guard that was rated as one of the best in Southern California. With this man playing the game will be no cinch for the locals.

Here's Starting Lineup
It is probable that Warren will start Merle Kennedy and Otto Gardner at forwards, Virgil Dunkin at center, with Al Claves and Carl "Pop" Warner at the guard positions. This combination has proven fast and adept at playing the ball. Warren has a number of other men that he can throw in the fracas to relieve the regulars.

Reserves who may be given the nod include James Eudaley, Frank Watson, Charles Webber, Hollis Fitz, E. Best, Barney Thole, Harold Culver, Biggs and Kenneth Schroll. In case the Santa Ana squad builds up a large lead over the visitors it is likely that a number of substitutes will get their chance.

To all appearances, Warren has removed the early season weakness of the team—that of the developing forward positions. Gardner, speed boy of the gridiron and track, with three years experience in high school basketball, has proven a consistent scorer in recent practice games. At the other forward, Merle Kennedy, of last year's junior college team, displays a skill for long distance shots that makes him dangerous anywhere in the opponent's territory.

Has Fight On Hands
Dunkin is experienced in a fight for his position at center from James Eudaley who played sub-center last year on a big eastern university team. Claves, gridiron hero, is one of the fastest men on the floor and as running guard he ought to disturb the El Centro team's offense. At standing guard, Warner aids in for breaking up threatening goal attacks. The coach thinks Warner will prove one of the most valuable men on the team before the season ends.

The team this year is considered one of the strongest put on the court by the Santa Ana college. In the practice games held this week the players have shown strong teamwork and scoring ability for this early in the season. Coach Warren expects to take them through to a championship.

There are seven teams in the league that Santa Ana will have to meet. Besides El Centro there are Riverside, Fullerton, San Diego, Citrus, Pomona and Pasadena junior colleges.

POLY TO MEET Y. M. C. A. FIVE HERE TONIGHT

In what should be a real "conditioner" for the stiff league contests that will come beginning next week, the Santa Ana high school basketball team will face the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. quintette at the 'Y' court here tonight. The game will get under way at 8 o'clock. A large crowd of casaba fans is expected.

Poly had figured to meet Long Beach in the official circuit opener tonight but somebody slipped up and it wasn't discovered until yesterday morning that the scheduled game didn't call for first round contests until January 16.

Coach Kidman of the varsity was pleased at this for the long forgotten Christmas holiday inactivity in which basketball practice was forgotten didn't do the locals a bit of good. Kidman feels that another week of strenuous drill will work wonders for the inexperienced Polyites.

R. R. Russicks Y. M. C. A. players have been working together for several weeks and they showed more stuff Wednesday night in trimming a Long Beach church aggregation than they have displayed all year. Most of the 'Y' ensemble are former Poly stars. The team also has a powerful list of reserves.

Arvid Norton, quarterback on the football team, has been elected captain of the high school quintette. He plays a forward. The other positions likely will be taken care of by Beattie, Siegel, Meisinger and Reister.

Efforts were being made to schedule a curtain raiser contest for either the Poly 110's or 130's for tonight. The lightweight recently elected Nylan Hard as skipper. The midgets honored Willard White, crack guard.

Youthful Sprinter Bans Hats, Caps No Matter How Chilly

FRANCIS HUSSEY
Francis Hussey, picked by many to soon wear the title of America's greatest sprinter, believes in back to nature. He seldom wears cap or hat.

Here we have him snapped in his "civies," just as he looks on his way to college. He is attending school at Boston.

JUNIOR COLLEGIANS LOSE TO DE MOLAYS
The Santa Ana junior college basketball team lost to the Orange De Molay, 37 to 24, in a game played on the Orange Y. M. C. A. court last night.

The junior college aggregation had the advantage in the attack but they could not cope with the accuracy of the De Molay players in scoring baskets. With more chances for scores the locals made fewer baskets.

The De Molay victory was largely due to Price, center, who scored a total of 26 points. On the college team, Gardner, Dunkin and Warner starred.

The lineup: Santa Ana (24) (37) Orange Gardner (24) (37) Christenson Kennedy (24) (37) Crawford Eudaley (24) (37) Price Claves (24) (37) Higgins Warner (24) (37) Wayne Substitutions—Santa Ana: Watson for Kennedy; Webber for Warner.

Tommy Carter To Box Ace Hudkins
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—The most important bout yet held under California's new system of legalized boxing will be fought tonight at Hollywood, when Tommy Carter defends his title as Pacific coast lightweight champion against Ace Hudkins, Nebraska battler.

Carter is the lad who kayoed Johnny Adams in a round. Hudkins has fought once in California, winning a four-rounder in handy fashion from Dick Hoppe.

JUST A NATURAL BATTER
Ty Cobb intends to let Outfielder Manush use his natural style at the plate next season. Trying to correct his batting faults caused Manush to fall off badly in his batting. According to Manush, the essentials in hitting are swinging at the ball in the right place.

COLLEGIAN IS NEW CHAMPION OF WRESTLERS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—While Wayne "Big" Munn, former Nebraska University football star, was being acclaimed the new wrestling champion of the world here today, Ed "Strangler" Lewis, who lost the title to Munn here last night, lay in a hospital suffering from a badly injured back. Fifteen thousand fans were the match. Lewis took terrific punishment from the new champion.

After dumping Lewis in the first fall, Munn knocked out the "Strangler" for twenty minutes when, in the second fall, he picked Lewis up and hurled him to the mat. The referee awarded this fall to Lewis on a foul.

Weakened by the severe punishment, Lewis offered no opposition in the final fall and the college bred athlete won the third fall and the title in 50 seconds.

Last night's crowd was all for Munn. Lewis was booed and hissed as he was carried out following the final fall. Thousands of spectators stormed the ring to acclaim the big Nebraskan who had so decisively bested the "Strangler."

Lewis' seconds protested the decision of the referee giving Munn the championship, declaring that Lewis had been fouled in the second fall and that bout should have been awarded to their charge.

However, Referee Walter Bates held the fight. Lewis came back for the third fall he had thereby signified his willingness to go on with the bout and take the consequences. Munn gained all his falls with a crotch hold.

INJURIES TO KEEP LEWIS OFF MAT FOR YEAR
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, heavyweight wrestler, who lost his title to Wayne Munn here last night, will not be able to wrestle again for at least a year, if then, attendants at St. Luke's hospital, where Lewis was taken following the bout, said today.

An X-ray examination revealed that the bone hinge between the pelvis and the spine had been severely wrenched, attendants said, which probably will keep Lewis in the hospital for several weeks.

It was thought at first that two vertebrae had been broken, but an examination failed to show any fracture.

Lewis was badly punished by his young opponent last night. The giant Nebraskan twice hurled the veteran mat champion to the floor, knocking out Lewis for twenty minutes on one occasion.

The bout, one of the roughest ever seen here, was wildly cheered by 15,000 fans.

KIWANIS, STARS IN INDOOR GO TONIGHT
What is expected to be the stellar indoor baseball attraction of the local season is on the cards for tonight at the Y. M. C. A. athletic field when at 7:30 o'clock the Kiwanis club and All-Star teams will tangle in a return "grudge" match. When these same forces clashed several weeks ago the Kiwanians, upsetting all the dope, won by a 7 to 6 count.

Orlyn Robertson and Wayne Nelson, rated as the best underhand chuckers in the city, will be rival pitchers.

The Kiwanis club will be picked from "Boss" Warren Orlyn Robertson, Ed Vegely, F. C. Bauer, George Cocking, John Estes, Bob Fernandez, Arnold Peek, Eli Singer, Maurice Enderle, Ray Miles and Cotton Mather.

The All-Stars will have such crack players as Bill Cole, Wayne Nelson, "Eeny" Wilcox, Horace Snow, "Tuffy" Tyrrell, Gene Thomas, Don Hillyard, George Martin, George Lackaye and "Memphis" Hill.

Baseball League Heads May Trade Veteran Umpires

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Tom Hickey, president of the American association, proposed an exchange of umpires with Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast league, at a conference here today.

Hickey offered to run over "Con" Palsy, a veteran of eight years in his organization. Williams is understood to have offered Bill Guthrie in exchange.

Before leaving for the east, Hickey plans to arrange a post-season series between the winner of the American association and the Pacific Coast league champions of the coming season.

ROBERTSON'S FOURTH IN BROADWAY LOOP

Rolling high total pins in a playoff series between the three teams that tied for fourth place in the Broadway league, the Robertson Electric company bowling squad won the $25 prize money and this position at the Broadway academy here last night. #### Rosenthal Denies He'll Quit Bears

BERKELEY, Jan. 9.—Dr. Boles Rosenthal, line coach at the University of California, today denied rumors that he would leave the California football squad to become a coach at Santa Clara.

The good right arm of "Barney" Le Bard, the same that used to bring baseball laurels to Santa Ana high school, will be matched against the hard hitting and undefeated leaders—Irvine—in Sunday afternoon's feature frolic in the Orange County Harbor league.

Le Bard, now pitching for Laguna Beach, is one of the consistently good ridgemen in the motor car loop. When he's in there with a glove it usually means that the other team will get a negligible number of runs and base hits. He has a good fast ball, some baffling curves and splendid control but he also is the real hard luck monarch of the circuit. He has lost half a dozen one-run games in the last year. If he gets a turn in the brass Sunday he may cast a bombshell into the ranks of the confident Beanpickers who were worked to their heels last week to get an even stephen 9 to 9 game with the Garden Grove club.

The hopes of those players and fans who want Irvine headed off will be with Le Bard and the Cave-dwellers and indications are that a whale of a crowd will gather around the crossroads plot to see what happens. Le Bard is an Irvine boy and so he'll be pitching against a lot of his best acquaintances.

His team not yet disposed of, Manager Heinie Kuykendall will collect the Van Dien-Young com-

SAYS AMERICA NOW REALIZES FOREST PERIL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. — The year 1925 will make forestry history, says a statement today from the American Tree Association.

With a forestry conference at Little Rock, on January 19, Arkansas opens the nation-wide forestry educational campaign. The Southern Forestry Congress at which J. S. Holmes is the president, will meet there for two days. The Arkansas Forestry Commission has just been appointed with J. R. Hamlen as president and A. C. Miller as secretary. This organization will work for a forestry law and a forestry department.

The speech of President Coolidge at the conference on forest utilization was the big feature of the year. In Pennsylvania efforts will be made in 1925 by the Pennsylvania Forestry Association to secure the passage of a bill authorizing a State loan of $25,000,000 for the purchase of wild lands of the State for a forest reserve. If this measure is passed it will be submitted for referendum this year.

The first town forest of the new year will be started at Brattleboro, Vermont this spring with the planting of 10,000 red pines.

At the November election Wisconsin voted for an amendment to the State constitution to permit the state to reforest waste land. Indiana has just held a forestry conference with a view to going before the state legislature for an appropriation to get state forests for that state.

Pack Foundation prizes for the best papers on forestry aimed to interest the people were established at Yale, Penn State College of Forestry, N. Y. State College of Forestry at Syracuse, Cornell University, University of Wisconsin, University of Michigan, University of Washington and University of Minnesota. Charles Lathrop Park presented a demonstration forest of a thousand acres to the New York State College of Forestry.

"The year 1925 will be a big one for reforestation," said President Pack, of the American Tree Association. "Reports to the association show activities in new quarters everywhere. The people are now demanding that eighty-one million acres of idle forest land in the United States be put to work. The editors of the country arrived at that point long since and their good co-operation in the new campaign of the American Tree Association has awakened the entire country. The waste paper bill of the United States is about fifty million dollars a year. About ninety per cent of the paper is made all or in part from pulpwood. Sixty per cent of our merchantable timber is west of the Rocky Mountains and seventy-five per cent of all of our virgin timber is there. That means high freight rates and long hauls when lumber is needed in the east."

Gov. Groesbeck of Michigan, has asked for data upon which to base a two-year program, the report says.

In Oklahoma the first forestry conference ever held in the state convened the middle of December. Mrs. F. B. Hancock, of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, called the meeting in Oklahoma City at which Gov. M. E. Trapp and many of the State's leading educators spoke.

The Canadian Forestry Association was incorporated. At the direction of the Department of Agriculture farmers in Western Canada have been planting 20,000 trees a day, a total of 150,000,000 young trees having been distributed by the Department. But much planting is being done by the states.

In New York state the biggest drive ever directed by a State Conservation Commission has just been completed. Just a few short of ten million trees were sent out to New York tree planters. Farmers and private land owners took nearly five million. The industrial concerns accounted for nearly two million. Furthering the town forest idea municipalities took two million more.

In California, just as the year closed, the mid-west conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce made reforestation the main subject of the winter meeting.

IRVINE, LAGUNA TO CLASH NEXT SUNDAY

Many hitting sticks and tote them out to the American Legion diamond here where the Building Materials men play host to Huntington Beach. The Van-Youngs, clinging tenaciously to third place, are making a gallant fight to retain the championship they captured in the 1923-4 winter months' struggle.

Tustin, another club that must be reckoned with in picking prospective and near champions, vacates its park for a tussle at San Juan Capistrano with Marion Hingle's Missionites. This should bring out a pretty mound duel between Jim Young and "Lefty" Hoover, both clever pulpit occupiers.

Garden Grove will be idle Sunday.

President Victor Walker has ruled the San Juan Capistrano-Huntington Beach game which wasn't played last Sunday because of a misunderstanding in the location of grounds must be played at the end of the season. Thus the "win" that was given Huntington Beach has been removed from the standing column as has the "loss" digit that was charged to the Missionites.

Walker today, assigned his umpires for Sunday's contests as follows: Laguna Beach vs. Irvine—Tommy Shedd; Van Dien-Young company vs. Huntington Beach—"Tuffy" Tyrrell; San Juan Capistrano vs. Tustin—H. B. Wentz.

THINKS LIMIT REACHED WITH RISQUE SHOWS

BALTIMORE, Jan. 9.—He is 64 years old. For fifty years he has been on the American stage. He was just 14 years old when he was given a part as one of the gnomes in his father's famous play, "Rip Van Winkle."

"The actors of the present day are not given a training like that."
Thomas Jefferson, the star of "Lightnin'," which is playing in Baltimore, turned the pages of an exquisite book with old photographs as he told of his early days on the stage. The book contained a history of the Jefferson family in the theater dating back to 1719.
"And I am the last of the line," said Thomas Jefferson, as he paused at a page containing a picture of his father in the famous role he created.

"Yes," continued the actor, "in my first part I was about a mile away from the front of the stage.
Next, I was allowed to play one of the villagers. Later on I had a single line to speak. They made me rehearse it over and over again."

A picture of the father of John Drew appeared on one of the pages.
Mr. Jefferson covered the chin with his fingers.

"Looked exactly like Lionel Barrmore, didn't he?"
The pages fluttered on.

"Every one of them appeared in plays that lived. People saw them one year and then saw them again. They took their children.
That was the constructive part of the theater."

Mr. Jefferson chuckled.
"I saw a new play last week,
full of risqué situation and questionable lines. I wonder how many parents will take their children to see it? I wonder how long it will be remembered?"

"My father promised never to appear in a play to which he was ashamed to take his own children.
I have kept the same vow."

"There is one trouble with the audience that appreciates a risqué show. It keeps demanding more and more. At the present time I think the limit has been reached."

MUSIC SECTION OF CLUB HOLDS MEET

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 9.

Twenty members turned out yesterday afternoon to attend the first meeting of the Music section of the Woman's club. The meeting was held at the music hall of the high school. Miss Ruth Harlow, music instructor at the school was in charge of the instruction.

Interest in the class has been evident from the start, according to Mrs. D. M. Peters, chairman of the section. First classes held yesterday included group singing and a general talk on future work.
Miss Harlow will instruct the members of the section in voice control, proper breathing exercises, and will also endeavor to give the women a knowledge of music.

Both the literature class and the gardening class started recently by the Woman's club are doing nicely according to a report by Mrs. T. B. Talbert, general sectional chairman. Art, swimming, and physiology classes were the first to be formed and are all progressing rapidly. This is the first year that the Women's club has tried to maintain sectional work on its program, according to Mrs. R. E.
Downs, president.

FLEA AIDS QUEST FOR MISSING WILL

LONDON, Jan. 9.—This is the story of a flea who found a lost will.

The case was heard in the probate court here when Mrs. Williams Howes, widow of a general dealer in Clapham, brought forth a will made by her husband before his death which had been lost at the time his estate was probated originally.

Mrs. Howes in telling the story of the flea said she was wearing a kennel coat sometime ago in order to wash her dogs. As the dog's bath was poisonous, she rinsed the coat in fresh water and hung it out on the line. As she did so she noticed something on the collar.

"What was it?" asked the judge.
"A big flea," replied Mrs. Howes, as the court rocked with laughter.
She said the flea caused her to look for more. A nest of fleas was found in an old inside pocket. And also in the pocket was discovered the old lost will.

The case is particularly important to the widow in that the estate as originally probated went to another beneficiary, since she could not find her husband's will.

The judge refused to handle the will found in the pocket and insisted that he be given photographic copy.

"Sanitary reasons," said the judge.

Continue Trial In Assault Case

Trial of Francisco Gonzales, Pla-centia Mexican charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was today continued by Superior Judge F.
C. Drumm to January 21, at 10
a. m.

Gonzales, who was accused of attempting to hold up Pedro De Los Reyes Placentia billiard hall owner, was tried at once, the jury failing to agree. He is now awaiting a second trial. Attorney Morris Cain of this city represents him.
The district attorney's office claims it has obtained fresh proof in the nature of a past criminal record, to use against Gonzales at the second trial.

EVENING SALUTATION

More than our feeble hearts can ever pine
For holiness,
That Father, in His tenderness divine,
Yearneth to bless.

—Frances Power Cobbe.

TRAILING FRANCIS DRAKE

A group of Englishmen have just set sail from Appledore, the Devonshire port from which Francis Drake sailed many years ago, to follow Drake's course around the world. They are voyaging in a three-masted frigate, the "Marian." The crew is made up of 14 hardy mariners selected from hundreds of eager applicants. Most of them will get nothing out of the trip but adventure. The mate is a real sea dog who has spent 60 years on the seas and has never yet shipped on anything but a sailing vessel. There is to be a chronicler for this twentieth century adventure, an Englishman who is an explorer and who has mapped much of Borneo and the islands south of India and China.

The voyage has a historical purpose. The ship is to make stops at numerous cities which have sprung up along the coasts passed or touched by Drake. It is hoped to gather some data of Drake's trip never before recorded.

The farewell message of one of the leaders of the expedition sets an imaginative person to dreaming. "Sails will serve us better than steam. Time is no immediate object. We shall drop down the Bideford river New Year's eve, as British sailors sailed before, and we may see you all again in five years' time."

Even the presence in the ship's equipment of the most up-to-date moving picture and photographic outfits, or the fear of seasickness, can hardly dispel the charm of that voyage to the stay-at-home to whom time and work are pressing.

Those Moors who have driven the Spaniards from Morocco are good soldiers, but poor spellers. They write the name of their country "Maroc."

A WASTEFUL INDUSTRY

Secretary of the Interior Work considers oil the greatest problem now facing this country.

"Unless new fields are discovered," he says, "and large new wells are drilled, the petroleum supply of the United States will be gone in 12 years."

He points out the lavish production of the present, more than a million barrels a day, and the irresponsible, unregulated competition that causes this drain. "Whenever a new field is brought in, the owners rush to drill it up. Oil is fugitive. Each well takes oil from across the line, and a lease, if not too large, can be drained by wells all around it. This is one of the reasons for the wild and costly drilling which uses up the oil so fast." The government itself can bear sad testimony to that fact.

The problem, suggests the secretary, is to find a way to stop the wasteful drilling and keep the oil in the ground until it is needed. That would be safer and cheaper than storage above ground. Statesmanship at Washington might well concern itself more seriously with that practical problem than with other more spectacular and political.

The world will not come to an end when the petroleum pools play out. There will remain vast stores of oil locked up in the oil shale deposits of the country. But it will cost more to utilize that supply. Economy and common sense demand that the easily available pools be made to last as long as possible.

You can bank on this—there's cents in making your dollars work.

PUBLIC LEADERSHIP

Bewailing the general lack of political leadership today, William Allen White says, in his Emporia Gazette:

"This world will prosper only when reason removes the evils of the world. Force cannot conquer the evils. And reason will come to men only through wise, tolerant, courageous leadership. The best leadership of the world is going not into politics, but into business. Politics in the world today is getting only the left-overs."

It does look so, in many lands, and generally speaking, it is so in America. "Who can say," asks the Emporia Gazette, "how to attract great men back into politics, where they ruled the earth half a century ago?"

That is the nut for present-day civilization to crack. Government is really more important than it ever was before, or capable of being more important, because it touches such vast interests and effects the welfare of mankind in so many different ways.

Perhaps the problem will never be solved until the public attitude toward life changes again, and the ablest men grow weary or dissatisfied with mere business success and turn with new interest to public careers for an outlet of their energies. That will surely come in time, and the time may be nearer than we think.

A THRIFTER GENERATION

The huge sums put into life insurance during the past year, considered along with the fact that bank savings deposits continue to increase and the announcement not many weeks ago that there are fewer paupers in the United States now than ever before, seem to imply several pleasant things.

Prosperity is one of these things. People who can put money into savings and life insurance must be making more than enough money to cover the bare necessities of life. Thrift is another. Surely many individuals are becoming a little more intelligent about their investments, about planning for their futures, and a little less susceptible to the wiles of the money sharper. Still another pleasant implication is that individuals partially responsible for the support of others are providing for those dependents in sounder ways than they used to.

TAXES AND BENEFACTIONS

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is worried by high taxes on the rich, because he thinks that is bad for American education. He complains that "the steady flow of unsolicited and most useful gifts to Columbia University, which has been so marked a feature of its history during the past quarter-century, already has been greatly diminished as a direct result of existing policies of taxation."

"If the ability to make private gifts and benefactions be destroyed by taxation," he says, "then these institutions begin to die."

Possibly the outlook is not so sad as Dr. Butler thinks. It is fine for great educational institutions to be supported by private gifts, but not imperative. There are many who hold that it would be better if colleges and universities were all supported by public funds, as the common schools and high schools are. High taxes would enable cities and states to do that, if they chose. We are already doing it in our state universities, and the country seems none the worse for it.

However, there doesn't seem to be much evidence of a general money famine among the higher institutions of learning. Never has money been given for education in such vast sums as at present. There are perfectly tenable objections to high taxes, but this doesn't seem to be one of them.

Useless Bills

—San Bernardino Sun.

In announcing his intention to lead in a fight against the introduction of useless bills in the present session of the State Legislature Senator Ralph E. Swing of this county has at the same time expressed faith that human nature in these parts has undergone a major transformation during the past decade.

Whatever ills have vexed mankind since first the Venetian cities hit upon the idea of a republican form of government there has ever been a popular panacea heaped from rostrum or soap box until the phrase "we will enact a law" has become the expected sequel.

For years writers of subjects political and students of political economy have pointed to the waste incurred at each session of legislatures in which endless bills have been introduced with no hope of passage offitimes with the single intention that they might appease "the folks back home." Assemblyman So-and-so has reckoned that in order to let the boys know he has earned his salt it was necessary for them to see his name in black letters at the head of some embryonic masterpiece of legislation even though it might be destined to die in committee with hundreds of its fellows.

In computing that the minimum cost of such legislation is $25 for the bill that is simply introduced it is hoped that Senator Swing may have started a new train of thought. There is a loss in useless legislation far greater than the direct money cost of unnecessary bills. This comes from the chaos resultant from the consideration of innumerable measures in the least time possible. In the closing forenoon of a recent session the New York State legislature passed something over 300 separate pieces of legislation. They dealt with every conceivable phase of governmental activity from specifying a type of canal locks to the protection of the wild game, and from the standardization of the State police to the passage of certain agricultural embargoes. There was no time for even a suggestion let alone a single thought that might be termed constructive. The legislative mill must grind in high gear and grind it did. The result was heralded as an accomplishment as so it was in its fashion.

Here in California we have witnessed similar "feats of skill" and when the legislation has failed to work may have said "well, we will enact another law." It is to be hoped the Senator from this county will not be the voice in the wilderness for there is room for the growth of the idea even in Washington we have heard.

State Engineer on Roads

—Redlands Facts.

State Engineer Morton of the Highway Commission has made his report for the year, and the most important thing in it is his suggestion as to future operations. Incidentally, Mr. Morton says he has succeeded in cutting down the overhead costs of the commission's activities, although he does not say how much of an economy he has been able to work out. In the publicity matter circulated to the newspapers, Mr. Morton says that contract prices on concrete work for roads has dropped from $15.75 per cubic yard to $13.40, and average grading costs from 78 cents per yard to 71c per yard.

Discussing the completion of the state highway system, Mr. Morton says:

"With 3,700 miles of the present California highway system on which construction of one kind or another much be done at an estimated cost of at least $200,000,000, it is obvious that an average expenditure of $20,000,000 per year on new construction only would complete the work as now outlined in a period of ten years."

"It probably would be unwise to attempt the completion of the existing system in less than a ten year period. Perhaps the period should be twenty years. In considering the amount of annual funds which should be provided for this purpose, the important point is not how much can the present highway organization spend efficiently, for the organization can be framed to fit the finances."

"The important question is how soon do the people of the state desire the highway system to be completed."

"With a method established for raising construction funds annually, in proportion to the increasing use of the highways, an initial provision of $12,000,000 probably would mount each year sufficiently to accomplish the task in a reasonable time. This initial sum is the average expenditure for new construction for the past three years."

"Road building has become so much a part of the life of every community and the demands for highways continues to be so great that, to properly meet these conditions, the highway organization should be placed on a permanent revenue basis."

"The essential need of the present highway situation is a sound basis of financing whereby there can be budgeted in advance the various highway projects to be undertaken each year. Under such a plan, the highway commission can outline a definite program and follow it with the assurance funds will be on hand to keep the promises made the people."

That Body of Yours

—By James W. Barton, M. D.

COLD OR HOT WATER TO DRINK?

You meet a friend on the street, and when you tell him how well he is looking he says, "Yes, I am drinking a glass of cold water the first thing in the morning. It washes everything down, and I don't have indigestion any more. It has also corrected my constipation. It's the greatest thing in the world." You meet another friend and when you casually mention that he is looking very well he starts right off about as follows: "Yes, I'm drinking a couple of glasses of hot water the first thing in the morning. You see, the hot water flushes everything out of the stomach, down into the intestine, and I start the meals of the day in good shape. The hot water also has cured me of constipation."

Are these men both right or both wrong, or is one of them right? As a matter of fact they are both right. To the average man in fair health, a glass of cold water the first thing in the morning, actually gives his stomach a blow—a shock as it were—and the muscular impulse passes through the stomach to the intestine, with the result that the entire intestinal tract is stimulated into activity, and intestinal action is thus assured. With the hot water, the stomach juice responds to the heat with the result that any food left in the stomach is quickly digested, and thrown into the intestine. This food coming into the intestine stimulates it to act, and the movement is continued all down the intestine, so that again intestinal activity is assured.

If you are bothered with "gas" in the stomach, the hot water usually gives relief, besides having the effects mentioned above. For the average person the glass of cold water is usually the most effective. Water is good for you under all conditions, unless you are endeavoring to take off some superfluous flesh. Water is a great builder.

ALONG the little stream banks
You have surely heard him croak
The noise he makes convinces you
He's just about to choke.
You'll find him where there's water,
Underneath, perhaps, a log.
He always jumps when frightened,
Does the hopping little frog.

The Value of A Child

—Springfield Republican

The city of New York was responsible for the death of a six-year-old girl, two years ago last summer, when she was struck by a missile accidentally thrown by a city employee from a street-cleaning truck. In the trial of the damage suit brought by the father, the city's lawyer sought to establish the principle that the parent should receive no compensation because his child was a liability. The considering the care and money outlay necessary to rear her. The jury's view of the city's position regarding children was to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5000. In brief, the child, declared the jury, was an asset.

It is surprising that the counsel for the city of New York should have entered such a mean and shabby defense. Every child, at least every healthy, normal child is an asset not only to the parents but to the state.

Worth While Verse

A RED, RED ROSE
Oh my Luve's like a red, red rose
That's newly sprung in June;
Oh my Luve's like a melody
That's sweetly play'd in tune.

As fair art thou, my bonnie lass,
So deep in love am I;
And I will love thee still, my dear,
Till a' the seas gang dry;

Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear,
And the rocks melt wi' the sun;
O I will love thee still, my dear,
While the sands o' life shall run.

—Robert Burns.

Time to Smile

MISERY LOVES COMPANY

Shortly after 2 o'clock one morning a doctor drove four miles in answer to a telephone call. On his arrival the man who had summoned him said: "Doctor, 'I'm not in great pain, but somehow I have a feeling that the end is nigh.'"

The doctor felt of his pulse and listened to his heart. "Have you made your will?" he asked at last.

The man turned pale. "Oh, doctor, it can't be that!" he gasped.

"You had better telephone to a clergyman and wire for your people," continued the doctor.

"Oh, doctor, how long do you give me?" groaned the man.

"Well, there is nothing wrong with you, but I hate to think that I'm the only man you've made a fool of."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

WHO WAS HE?

There was a knock at the door and on going to open it the landlord found one of his tenants standing on the doorstep.

"Have you any legal right to interfere to stop a woman on the third floor from screaming at her husband in the night?" asked the man breathlessly.

"No," was the explanatory reply, "I'm the husband."—Answers, London.

A SUBSTITUTE

The wife of the profligate was having great difficulty over the furnishing of the large house. She did not know the names of ordered her completely.

One day a woman asked her, "Have you Lamb's Tales?" She thought for awhile, and then answered nervously: "No, but I've got a gray sheepskin rug."—Tit-Bits.

Little Benny's Note Book

—By Lee Pope

Pop was smoking and thinking and ma was looking at the picture section of the Sunday paper, saying, Royalty, royalty, I don't see why everybody makes such a fuss about kings and princes.

They don't bother me any, pop said.

Heers a picture of King Alfonso of Spain at Monty Carlo, with a hole mob of wimmin in the background nearly breaking their necks trying to get a look at him. I think it's perfectly disgusting, I don't see anything wonderful looking about him, on the contrary, ma said.

I'd swap a couple of kings for a couple of aces any day, pop said.

And here it shows the Prince of Wales getting off a train and my goodness the hole station is crowded with people staring like fishes out of water, how do they get that way? ma said.

I suppose it grows on them gradually, pop said.

Well, just then ma sneezed saying, O dear, I hope I'm not catching a cold from yesterday.

Why yesterday, especially? pop said.

Well you see, I was down town and I saw a tremendous jam of wimmin outside one of the movie houses and it seemed some Rudolf Valentino was about to either go in or come out. I couldn't find out which, so naturally I pushed my way in, and it was a hard job, believe me, because just because those other wimmin happened to get there first they seemed to think nobody else had a right to see, and by the time I worked my way to the front row I was pretty warm, and then it started to rain, but no rain was going to keep me from seeing anything I was nearly killed in the crush and after all I only saw part of his profile, and I think I may of cawt a cold, ma said.

And she sneezed again, pop saying, Hup at the sucker, yee gods! And he got behind the sporting page.

Preliminary plans were discussed in the northern part of the county for the formation of a union high school for students of Fullerton, Anaheim and vicinity.

City Treasurer H. D. Connell circulated his petition as candidate for re-election. W. F. Menton announced he would seek the office of city clerk.

A light rain began falling in Santa Ana at noon. The season's total now is 1.25 inches.

The Snow Man

—Hal Cockran's DAILY POEM

JUST a funny-lookin' fellow with a body made of white, and a face that had two buttons for its eyes. An old plug hat of father's seemed to fit his head just right, for they made the head to be the proper size. He stood upon a hillside where the snow had fallen thick and fast. He was a pretty sight to see. His snowballs and they formed him pretty quick. His completion brought some husky shouts of glee. Why, you'd think him almost human with his face made out of snow, and a body that was puffed till very fat. They'd given him a smile that really seemed to grow and grow as the melting ice came dripping off his hat.

From early in the morning did this snowman stand his ground, and he watched the snow and just time-squand go. But the very morning after, just imagine what was found. Just a wasted pile of mushy, slushy snow.

'Twas the blazing sun that killed 'em, his ground, and the life of Mister Snow was quickly run. But he gave a brand of pleasure, while he lived, in ample measure, for he gave the kids who built him lots of fun.

State Rivalry—Tax Problem

—From "Tax Facts"

California and Florida have taxes as compared with the total enough in common to make them rivals for tourists and settlers. Both states have had a phenomenal growth in the last few years. Both are eagerly inviting investors. Choice of climate, or other physical advantages may be a matter of taste. But financial returns and investments are devoid of sentiment. Money flows where, all things considered, the greatest dividends are. Even so prosaic a thing as taxes will seriously affect the current.

The Secretary of the Jacksonville, Florida Development Board, speaking of the constitutional amendment adopted in that state prohibiting an inheritance tax, said:

"Florida has great latest resources needing capital to develop them. * * * Ratification of the amendment will result in millions of dollars being available to be loaned at a low rate of interest for building new hotels, apartment houses, residences and industries. * * * Large building operations mean continued employment for the laboring man, increased population and more prosperity for the merchant."

The Tampa Tribune, commenting on the $500 exemption of personal property—"a relief which will be cordially welcomed by persons of moderate means who find the tax burden heavier and more difficult to carry"—adds:

It will give to this state a tremendous drawing power which is sure to bring to us as citizens thousands of worthwhile, "well-fixed," progressive and enterprising people from other states. But Florida is not California's only rival. The business men of the Coast are not content to live on the patronage of retired Easterners who come here for the climate.

And here it shows the Prince of Wales getting off a train and my goodness the hole station is crowded with people staring like fishes out of water, how do they get that way? ma said.
